LEGISLATURE HEARS GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Chief Executive Urges Acceptance of the Offer of the Carriers.

LEGISLATION TO BE LIMITED

House Calls for Names of Members Who Tote Passes—Senate Takes Up Constitutional Amendments—Local Bills.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—Governor Craig's special message recommending the acceptance of the offer of the carriers as a settlement of the freight rate controversy; a resolution by Clark, of Pitt, to request the Corporation Commission to furnish the names of legislators riding on railroad passes; two proposed amendments to the Constitution and a score of local bills, were the principal features in the House during an hour's session today.

The Clark resolution produced the first skirmish of the session, several members declaring that it was nothing but an effort to discredit attorneys employed as counsel by railroads and not calculated to do any good. The resolution was passed 81 to 20.

Craig Reiterates Position.

The chief executive of the State reiterated his position that the pending amended proposal from the railroad companies for settlement of railroad rate differences be accepted as settlement for two years as to the rates involved, the State and shippers to have the right to proceed for relief as to any other rates at will. He declared that the acceptance of the proposal to be effective at once would save the people of the State a vast amount of money and enable the cities and towns of North Carolina to compete with the cities and towns of other States.

Limit Bills to Rates and Amendments.

Both Houses adopted a rule that no bills be considered at this session that do not pertain to railroad rates or constitutional amendments, except those that may be occasioned by emergencies or contingencies since the last session, and all such must be introduced not later than October 1st.

In the Senate, Senator Bryant, of Durham, introduced the bill carrying all the proposed amendments to the Constitution as prepared by the Commission on constitutional amendments, together with the machinery for the people to vote on ratification.

Governor Craig's Message.

Governor Craig's message to the General Assembly was as follows:

"To the Honorable, the General Assembly of North Carolina:

"I transmit to you herewith the report of the Corporation Commission of negotiations for the adjustment of inter-State freight rates made August 5th, 1913, with an amendment made on September 19th, 1913.

"If the proposals for the reduction of transportation charges contained in this report be accepted, the reduced rates are to go into effect without delay, and the acceptance by the State of the proposals therein contained will be a settlement of all pending differences between the State of North Carolina and the railways in respect to rates on inter-State traffic therein adjusted, for a period of at least two years from the time of such acceptance.

"I refer this report with the proposals to the representatives of the people that they may determine what shall be done.

"The carriers make definite proposals in substance, as follows:

Proposals in Detail.

"1. From northern and eastern territory all rail rates on through freight shall in no sense exceed combinations of local rates. This is not a concession, but an agreement to comply with the law which ought never to have been violated, but we would obtain this benefit without resort to the courts.

"2. From the Buffalo-Pittsburg territory, substantial reductions on all important iron and steel commodities.

"3. From western territory, reductions to the zones of the State specifically set out in the report. This western territory embraces all points east of the Buffalo-Pittsburg zone, north of the Ohio river, and west of the Mississippi river.

"4. From all furniture points in the State to the far West, rates on furniture equal to the rates now in force from the Virginia cities and to the territory east of the Rocky Mountains, a reduction of $12 per car on mixed furniture.

"5. Commodity rates on inbound freight to the city of Asheville and related territory, set out on pages 25 and 26 of the report of the Corporation Commission, and on pages 10 and 11 of the amendment.

"In addition to the above unconditional proposals, the carriers agree to further reduce rates from northern and eastern territory and from the Buffalo-Pittsburg zone on condition that they secure the consent of their northern and eastern connections.

Has Studied Question Earnestly.

"I have devoted to this question most earnest thought. I have had the assistance and co-operation of experts in freight rates, and have taken counsel with the legislative Freight Rate Commission, and with officers and members of the Just Freight Rate Association, with the Corporation Commission and with the Council of State. It is my duty, under the Constitution, to express to you my views and conclusions. In the discharge of this duty, I recommend that the proposal above set out be accepted.

"In the original proposition there were some conditions that made acceptance impossible. Those have been eliminated, and the proposition has been amended to the decided ad-

WOULD HONOR REQUISITION

Attorney General Advises Governor to Extradite Thaw, But Felker is Lawyer Himself—Question of Indictment.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 25.—That Attorney General James P. Tuttle has advised Governor Felker to honor the request of the State of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was learned on apparently good authority today.

The attorney general is said to take the attitude that the New York papers are in proper form and that it is unnecessary for the Governor to go below their surface into an inquiry into the facts of the case on which they are based.

But Governor Felker, who is himself a lawyer, is understood to attach importance to obtaining further information on the reported indictment of Thaw by the Dutchess county (N. Y.) grand jury for conspiracy. No indictment has been made public, but William Travers Jerome said in arguing on New York's petition for extradition that an indictment had been found but kept secret at his request. It is said that unless the Governor learns more definitely just what attitude has been taken by the Dutchess grand jury, he probably will defer his decision.

It is believed here that the Governor will grant the request made by Thaw's counsel today that they be allowed until October 6th, to file additional briefs in the extradition matter.

For two hours today Thaw strolled about downtown streets and suburbs with a police officer.

Division of Opinion.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 25.—A division of opinion is said to exist among Governor Felker's advisers as to whether he should honor the request of the State of New York for the extraditing of Harry K. Thaw. Some of them take the attitude that the New York papers are in proper legal form and that it is unnecessary for the Governor to go below their surface in an inquiry into the facts of the case, upon which they are based. Others at the State House take an opposite view.

GUILFORD'S SEVENTH MURDER.

J. H. Taylor, Greensboro Merchant, Killed in His Store.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 25.—J. H. Taylor, a groceryman who slept in his store on West Lee street, was found dead in a pool of his blood on floor early this morning. The rear door had been broken open by burglars which probably aroused the merchant.

There was evidence of a sharp encounter but nothing was missing from the store. There is no clue upon which the officers can work, but it is believed the crime was committed by a band of store robbers who have been operating in the city.

Taylor may have been shot with his own pistol, as this is missing. This is the seventh murder that has been committed in Guilford county this year and is the climax of a series of lawlessness. Taylor is survived by a wife and five children.

The theory of the police is that Taylor, whose store was broken into several weeks ago and who had been on the lookout for burglars, surprised one or more in his store, and that they wrested his gun from him. He was shot twice, in the breast and back. When found this morning, he was lying dead in his night clothes, and all the lights in the store were burning.

Chester, S. C., Sept. 25.—John Frazer, Jr., and Bissell Bigham, both young men, were arrested here today on warrants charging complicity in the Parr-Shoals robbery three weeks ago, when officials of the J. G. White Construction Company were held up and robbed of $16,000. The two vigorously denied the charge. They were taken to Winnsboro and jailed.

A Rare Tribute To The President

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 25.—Notwithstanding the fact that only a few scattering Democrats are sitting in the joint convention of the Virginia and North Carolina Postmasters' Association which convened here in annual session today, the postmasters applauded with great enthusiasm a notable tribute paid to President Woodrow Wilson by C. F. McKesson, Republican postmaster at Morganton, N. C.

Mr. McKesson said while he was not swerving in the least in his loyalty to the Republican party he wished to say there is now occupying the Presidential chair at Washington the greatest chieftain the Nation has ever had since the days of Thomas Jefferson.

The joint convention opened at 10 A. M. today with about 150 Virginia and North Carolina postmasters of the first, second and third class in attendance.

S. Brown Allen, postmaster at Staunton, Va., president of the Virginia association, and W. W. Rollins, postmaster at Asheville, N. C., president of the North Carolina association, are presiding over the deliberations of the two bodies jointly.

The response by Postmaster McKesson, of Morganton, for the North Carolina postmasters, was followed by the annual address of President Allen, of Virginia, and President Rollins, of North Carolina.

First Assistant Postmaster General Daniel C. Roper, and other department officials, who were expected from Washington, found at the last minute they could not come and so wired Postmaster Clinton L. Wright, of Norfolk. Other pressing business prevented their attendance.

The body adjourned at 10 o'clock until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MORAL SUASION HAS SUCCEEDED

President's Mexican Policy Has Accomplished Cardinal Purposes.

WILL NOW WATCH ELECTIONS

President Wilson Believes He Has Achieved Guarantee of Fair Elections in Mexico and the Elimination of Huerta.

Washington, Sept. 25.—President Wilson today took the position that the policy of moral suasion adopted by the United States toward Mexico had accomplished its two cardinal purposes—to obtain assurances that there would be a constitutional election, and that Provisional President Huerta would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

It was said that Provisional President Huerta would support Frederico Gamboa, nominee of the Catholic party, encouraged President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to believe the Huerta government was carrying out what the United States had emphasized as the essential features of a satisfactory settlement of the revolutionary troubles.

The President realizes it will not be immediately possible to judge whether the election is actually constitutional and will withhold decision as to whether the choice of that election will be recognized by the United States.

Doubt as to the value of the coming election as expressing the will of the Mexican people was cast by constitutionalists at headquarters here today in the issuance of a statement saying its supporters, extending over many Mexican States, would not go to the polls.

Consuls Will Report.

Many persons familiar with the purposes of the administration here predicted that the next step in the policy of the United States would be an effort to show indirectly to the constitutionalists the necesstiy of participating. It was pointed out by officials today that Mexican law would hold the approaching election constitutional if a majority of the polling precincts were shown to have been in legal operations. Consuls throughout the republic will report to the State Department their opinion of the fairness of the election and if the election is recognized, the policy of neutrality between the factions would be declared ended and the United States by exportation of arms would lend its moral support to the new government.

President Wilson, discussing the situation with callers, spoke of the practical difficulties of a constitutional election in Mexico at present, but regarded with satisfaction the seemingly determined effort of the authorities in Mexico City to comply with the suggestions of the United States.

Administration officials let it be known that the United States was not concerned with the personnel of the candidates beyond its opposition to General Huerta's continuation in power.

Discuss Gamboa's Candidacy.

Gamboa's candidacy, nevertheless, caused much discussion in official circles and doubt. It was pointed out by administration officials that the Catholic party always has been the minority party in Mexico because most Mexicans had opposed the idea of a Catholic political party as leading to a reunion of Church and State.

With keen interest official Washington is waiting to see whom the liberals will name. Manuel Catero, former ambassador to the United States under the Madero regime, is regarded here as a likely choice.

A feeling of relief that the situation was adjusting itself was apparent here today. From high administration officials came the statement that no change in orders had been sent to consuls about Americans leaving Mexico. President Wilson still is urging those in troubled zones to depart, offering them pecuniary assistance.

A. & M. HAS 604 STUDENTS.

More Than 300 New Men This Year—Class to International Stock Show.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—The total number of students enrolled at A. & M. on September 22nd, was 604. This is 50 more than last year, and the enrollment ought, if the same additions are made that were made last year, reach 600. The freshman class numbers 239, and the short-course men 93, making a total of 332 new men who have entered college this year. The enrollment by departments is as follows: Agricultural 243; Civil Engineering 96; Mechanical Engineering 96; Electrical Engineering 116; Chemistry 16; and Textile Manufacturing 37.

At a meeting of the joint committee in charge of experiment work of the State, Mr. W. R. Camp was selected to teach Agricultural Economics in the college, and also to take charge in the station of the Department of Marketing. Mr. Camp is an A. B. graduate of Leland Stanford University, and was later a graduate student and teaching fellow at the University of Missouri.

Prof. J. C. McNutt is making arrangements to take another party of Animal Husbandry students to attend the International Live Stock Show in Chicago early in December. These trips have been conducted for several years by Prof. McNutt. Last year only members of the senior class were allowed to go, but it is hoped that some of the junior class will be allowed to go this year. Those who have made the trip before have been well pleased with its value.

STORMY SCENES AROUND NASHVILLE

Rioting Feared in Tennessee Legislature Over Law Enforcement Bills.

GOVERNOR HOOPER'S MESSAGE

Charges Desperate Conspiracy on Part of Liquor Interests—Spectators Cleared from Capitol. Filibuster in Progress.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 25.—As a precaution against possible rioting over so-called law enforcement bills, the Tennessee House of Representatives this afternoon cleared the capitol of all spectators, including members of the Senate, which was not in session.

It did not require formal action as spectators left after being addressed briefly by Representative McFarland who suggested that their presence probably would seriously interfere with the business of the House. Before leaving some of the visitors asked for assurance that detectives and others, thought to be armed, likewise would leave. A squad of policemen in the corridors also departed.

The faction opposing the passage of the law enforcement bills which are designed to make more effective the present prohibition laws, today continued a filibuster against the measures. Late today a petition signed by a majority of the House, it is claimed, urging Speaker Stanton to allow the bills to come to a vote, was ordered spread upon the journal.

The House voted down a resolution providing that John Yeaman, a deputy game warden, be cited before the House for contempt. It is alleged Yeaman displayed a revolver in the uproar in the House yesterday, when several speakers charged that gunmen were present.

The House will meet again tomorrow for consideration of bills.

It has been charged that opponents of the measures are taking steps to prevent a roll call during the present extra session of the Legislature which officially ends Saturday. Pay for members of the Legislature ceases after that day.

In a message to the House presented Monday, Governor Ben W. Hooper urged the passage of the bills and made the following charge against its opponents: "Beyond all question there is a desperate conspiracy on foot among the liquor interests, and their subservient tools to throttle the majority and defeat the will of the people by force and fraud."

Safety Devices For All Trains

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—J. E. Latham and Thomas S. Beall, of Greensboro, representing the Wright Automatic Safety Appliance, appeared before the House Committee on Inter-State and Foreign Commerce, and told in detail of the merits of their newly patented device.

The meeting today at which several inventors, including the Greensboro men, were present, is the beginning of a strong movement to compel railroads to adopt safety appliances which will reduce train accidents to a minimum. The Wright automatic appliances, it is claimed, will stop a train the minute anything goes wrong with a car upon which the device is used.

In connection with the hearing it became known that Commissioner McChord, of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, who has been investigating railroad accidents, is drafting a bill to place with the commission the necessary power to require safety appliances on trains. The Wright patent it is said, was favorably commented upon by members of the committee.

Orvid C. Foote, of North Carolina, has been nominated for assistant surgeon in the medical reserve corps of the navy.

H. D. Latta, of Winston-Salem; J. D. Murphy and wife, of Asheville, and R. Y. McPherson and wife of Raleigh, are here. P. R. A.

OUTLINES

Senator John D. Works in a speech in San Diego, Cal., yesterday severely criticised the attitude of the United States toward Mexico, declaring for intervention.

Conferees on the tariff bill still had not reached an agreement on all the schedules last night; the income tax limit was agreed on at $3,000 for single men and $4,000 for men with families.

Former President Taft spent yesterday at Washington as a member of the Lincoln Memorial Association, and incidentally to get Secretary McAdoo to construct New Haven's new postoffice of marble.

New Hampshire's attorney general is understood to have advised Gov. Felker to grant New York's requisition for Thaw, though the Governor, a lawyer himself, wants to hear further from the Dutchess county grand jury.

New York markets: Money on call easier 2 3-4 to 3 per cent.; ruling rate 2 3-4; closing bid 2 3-4 to 3 per cent.; time loans easier; flour barely steady; wheat easy, No. 2 red 94 1-2; No. 1 Northern 94 1-4; corn weak, export 79 1-2 nominal; turpentine steady, rosin quiet; spot cotton steady, middling uplands 13.75; gulf 14.

Says Sixteen Men Control Big Railroad Systems.

George F. Baker, Director of Fifteen Railroads.

New York, Sept. 25.—The recent statement by Dr. Frank J. Warne, statistical expert retained by the trainmen, while testifying before the Board of Arbitration that is attempting to bring about a peaceful settlement of the conductors and trainmen of the 52 Eastern railroads and the managers, to the effect that 16 men hold nine large railway systems and all of their subsidiary companies in uniformity of action and serve as a means of communicating policies among them, is not being denied very forcibly in the financial district. According to Dr. Warne, there are 20 men serving as 171 directors among the different systems. The leader in this respect is George F. Baker, who holds a chair on 15 different directorate boards.

CURRENCY HEARINGS DRAG ON

Chicago Banker and Yale Professor Before Committee at Washington Yesterday—An Indefinite Session.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Edward D. Huelbert, of Chicago, a banker, and Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University, expert on the theory of currency, today endorsed principles of the administration currency bill before the Senate Committee. Amendments designed to alter the proposed methods for carrying out the purposes of the measure were recommended by both.

The desire of the committee to examine Mr. Huelbert further brought out the fact that hearings on the bill will be continued indefinitely. Mr. Huelbert said he was willing to return to Washington later and asked how long the hearings would continue.

"The chairman of the committee can't say," answered Senator Owen.

"Oh, about two months," suggested Senator Hitchcock, who has indicated that he will oppose the bill.

A regular schedule later was fixed for two sessions daily in the future.

Mr. Huelbert told the committee State banks and trust companies must be brought into the new system if it is to be a success.

He suggested amendments designed to make the new plan attractive to State institutions.

Both Mr. Huelbert and Prof. Fisher criticised the provision fixing the 23 1-3 per cent gold reserve to be held against the proposed new currency. They recommended that the reserve requirement be increased.

Further criticism of the bill from the viewpoint of the business interests of the Middle West was presented by Fendall G. Winston, of Minnesota, who said the bill would be ineffective for the Middle West because only paper maturing within 90 days would be available for re-discount.

"This bill," said Mr. Winston, "would result in a contraction of the currency for 18 months after its passage and as soon as it reaches full working order, will result in a dangerous inflation."

Curtis Musher, secretary of the Citizens' League, of Minnesota, submitted a brief showing the difficulties of forming a regional reserve bank in the Northwest.

Mr. Huelbert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan & Trust Company, of Chicago, suggested changes in the reserve plan.

Illinois Bankers Meet.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—A. F. Dawson, president of the First National Bank of Davenport, Ia., discussed the Owens-Glass Currency measure from the standpoint of the smaller banker today at the meeting of the Illinois Bankers' Association. Parts of the measure, he approved without qualification, other sections coming in for criticism.

The measure, he declared, embodies the fundamental principles of a sound banking system.

United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman denounced the bill and made it plain that he would not vote for the measure in its present form. He ridiculed lawmakers who, he said, are striving to regulate the active interests of bankers in theory; that they are dangerous individuals.

TARIFF CONFEREES TIED UP

Rates on Cotton Yarns, Cloth and Ores Still at Issue—Tax on Incomes $3,000 and Over and $4,000.

Washington, Sept. 25.—After finishing all but about a half dozen of the points of difference between the Senate and House, the tariff bill conferees ran into another deadlock today and adjourned tonight with the conference report still incomplete.

Three important matters still are at issue. The tariff rates on cotton yarns and cotton cloths and on lead and zinc ores and the dates when free raw wool and changes in the woolen goods tariff shall become effective.

Members of the conference committee could not predict tonight how soon an agreement could be reached. With the aid of experts they spent the afternoon going over the cotton schedules and calculating the effect on the woolen industry of the proposed changes.

Both Houses of Congress gave up hope of a report from the conference committee tomorrow, the House adjourning until Saturday and the Senate until Monday.

There were rumors today of strong opposition to the report that might develop in the House on the ground that Republicans had not been taken into the conferences that worked out the details of the measure. If such opposition appears, it probably would take the form of a point of order against the report on the ground that it contains matter inserted without authority by the conference committee. In several instances the conferences have changed provisions in such a way that some members of Congress declare new legislation has been added to the bill.

The conferees insist they have acted wholly within their authority and Democratic leaders do not anticipate any marked delay in action on the report.

The Senate conferees won their fight against the "anti-dumping clause" which would have assessed an extra duty against goods "dumped" into this country at reduced

Great interest centered about the decision of the conferees to exempt from the income tax that portion of the premiums on mutual life.

The conferees agreed on $3,000 as the amount of income of a single man that shall be free from the income tax. For a married man the exemption will be $4,000 with no further exemption for children. Only one exemption of $4,000 will be allowed for a family, even though the husband and wife have seperate incomes.

The plan to report the tariff bill from conference with a disagreement on the cotton futures tax, it was learned tonight, has the sanction of President Wilson.

The President told callers today that he was in favor of some measure which would relieve the cotton farmer from the manifest injustice of having his prices depend on speculative operation, but declined to say which he favored of the many compromise plans suggested.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS FROM ALL SOURCES

Even Brewers Are Alleged to Have Contributed to Sulzer's Success.

IMPORTANT COURT RULINGS

Impeachment Trial Goes Merrily on at Albany—Sought Co-operation of Tammany Hall—Important Witness Secured.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 25.—These developments today marked the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer:

Jacob H. Schiff, a New York banker, testified that he recently was asked by Samuel I. Frankenstein, formerly a law partner of Governor Sulzer, if he would accept the return of the alleged $2,500 campaign contribution which the banker yesterday said he gave to the Governor without restriction as to its use. Mr. Schiff said he had replied negatively.

The High Court, by an unanimous vote, decided to admit all testimony pertaining to campaign contributions made to the Governor, even though they were not specified in the articles of impeachment.

This ruling paved the way for the introduction of testimony intended to show the Governor had solicited and received large contributions from brewing interests.

The Governor, asked, according to the testimony, that these contributions be given in cash, instead of checks.

Counsel for the impeachment managers said they were prepared to prove the Governor received campaign contributions "vastly in excess" of the total mentioned in the articles of impeachment. There were more than 100 not accounted for, counsel asserted.

Many Unreported Contributions.

The names of a large number of these contributors, other than those of the brewing interests, were brought into the evidence. These included 52 personse mentioned as drawers of Sulzer checks on the account of Louis A. Sarecky, the Governor's campaign secretary, in the Mutual Alliance Trust Company. This account showed, with checks and cash, that deposits of $14,400 had been made from September 10th, 1912, to the date of the Governor's inauguration.

Decision on the question as to whether Sulzer's alleged misuse of checks given the Governor without restriction as to their use, constituted larceny was reserved to give the court an oportunity to investigate the authorities.

Sarecky regarded by the prosecution as one of the most important witnesses, and whom they said they had been unable to locate, was discovered by process servers in Albany and served with a subpoena.

Judge Lewis J. Conlan, of New York, a life-long friend of the Governor, testified he had raised money for the Governor's campaign, but had given it to him without restriction as to its use.

Asked Aid of Tammany.

Sulzer called personally on Chas. A. Stadler, president of the American Smelting Company, Stadler testified, and requested his aid in obtaining the support of Tammany Hall. He said he obtained the support and later solicited campaign funds for Sulzer.

The Assembly managers decided tonight to bring no more impeachment charges against the Governor.

Stadler, who is a former State Senator, declared that after several invitations from Sulzer he had visited the candidate to talk things over.

"The conversation was on the general topic of the political situation

Senator Works Says Intervene

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 25.—Declaring it the duty of the United States to intervene and restore order in Mexico, United States Senator John D. Works, delivering the oration of the day, at the dedication of the site of the monument to Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, took occasion today to criticise severely conditions in Mexico and the attitude of the United States.

"Just to the south of us, almost within reach of gunshot, our men are being humiliated and our women outraged daily," he said. "What are we going to do about it?

"It is the business and solemn duty of our government to protect our citizens. I do not believe we have done that adequately in Mexico. We have sent our bluejackets ashore in other countries; why not in Mexico?

"I have no criticism to make of the efforts of the President of the United States. We shrink from intervention and I believe the President is justified in his efforts to avoid it. But these conditions cannot go on forever."

Senator Works commended the action of other powers in waiting for the United States' policy to work itself out.

The Spanish minister, Don Juan Rianos Gayangos, as special representative of King Alfonso, stood by Lieutenant Governor Wallace, of California, when the latter dedicated the monument to Cabrillo, the early Spanish navigator, who discovered San Diego Bay. Congressman R. L. Henry, of Texas, represented President Wilson at the ceremony.

It is said that 90,000,000 broom handles are used annually in the United States; one for each man, woman and child.

MARQUARD TWIRLED GIANTS TO THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY

Giant Machine Showed Perfect Form from Pitcher to Outfield

PHILS TWO FROM BRAVES

Johnny Evers Brought Home the Bacon for His Chicago Cubs—Hans Wagner Rounds Out .300 Batting Mark.

With Big Rube Marquard doing noble mound duty, the National League champions administered another defeat to Col. Charlie Ebbetts' Dedicated Dodgers yesterday afternoon, to the tune of 8 to 2. Ragged fielding featured the playing of the Dodgers while the Giant machine was running as smooth as greased lightning, and after the first inning in which the Dodgers put over two scores, the Rube was never in danger of being scored upon.

That the McGraw clan will not cop the National League pennant by a very wide margin is brought to mind by the mention that the Phillies won both ends of a double-header while the Giants were winning a single game. However, should the Phils play and win two games every day for the balance of the season while the Giants were winning one a day, the Manhattan bunch would end leaders by a margin of five or six games. The Phils took both ends of the double-header with the Boston Braves, the first event being a pitching duel between Quinn and Chalmers.

Johnny Evers and Hans Wagner were the bright particular satellites in yesterday's game between the Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburg Pirates in which the former won 7 to 1. Evers was credited with four hits for the day's performance, two of them doubles. Hans Wagner brought his batting average up to .300, completing his 17th consecutive season in the .300 batting class.

Giants Again.

Brooklyn, Sept. 25.—Brooklyn lost to New York today 8 to 2. The National League champions outplayed the locals in all departments of the game. After the first inning Marquard never was in danger.

Phils Get Both.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25—Philadelphia defeated Boston in two games here today. The opening event was a pitching duel, which Philadelphia won by bunching three singles and an out in the second inning. A batting rally in the ninth won the second game for the home team.

Boston	000 010 000	1	6 1
Philadelphia	020 000 10x	3	6 3

Quinn and Rariden; Chalmers and Dooin; time 1:35; umpires Byron and Rigler.

Second game:

Philadelphia	020 000 203	7	13 2

Cocreham, Tyler and Gowdy; Alexander, Brennan and Killifer and Dooin; time 2:05; umpires Rigler and Byron.

Evers and Wagner.

Pittsburg, Sept. 25.—Managers John Evers figured largely in Chicago's victory over Pittsburg this afternoon. With four hits, including two doubles, he was the batting star of the day. By making two hits this afternoon, Hans Wagner brought his season's average to 300 even, this being his 17th consecutive season in the 300 or better class.

Chicago	113 000 020	7	12 2
Pittsburg	000 001 000	1	6 0

CAROLINA LEAGUE MEETING.

Officials Meet Today In Greensboro to Elect New President.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 25.—The directors of the North Carolina Baseball League will meet here tomorrow for the purpose of electing a president to succeed J. H. Wearn, who has resigned, and to transact such other business as shall come before them at that time. Mr. Wearn has stated that under no conditions will he accept re-election.

The candidates for the place will probably be Leon J. Brandt, president of the Greensboro club and ex-mayor of Greensboro, who has long been connected with baseball in the State, and Mr. W. G. Bramham, of Durham, an attorney and a great baseball enthusiast. The name of Mr. Arthur Lyon, of High Point, has been suggested for the reason he lives on foreign soil.

The league as a whole has made a good record, and its future is apparently secure. Plans for next year will be considered at the meeting. The same towns will, of course, be in the league next year. More time will be at the disposal of all the clubs in getting together good teams and it is believed that every club in the association will have a good team and a money-making season next year.

Giants' Batters Their Weakness

(By Grover C. Alexander, greatest pitcher the Giants have faced this season.)

"Lad-e-es and gentlemen, the batt'rees for today's game will be Mathewson and Meyers, f'r th' Giants; Bender and Lapp, for the Athletics."

Twice in world's series of other years have Bender and Matty met. First in 1905 and again in 1911. And they will undoubtedly meet for the third time when the hosts of McGraw and Mack hook up next month to settle the baseball championship of this little old world.

There is little to choose between the two great right handers. Bender leads Matty on percentage just now, but "Big Six" has worked in more games than the great red man and the difference between them is but slight.

Peculiarly enough, the game the pair pitched in 1905 was almost identical to that in which they opened the series of 1911. Mathewson won both, but Bender outpitched him, holding the Giants to five hits, while the Athletics made six. In 1905 the score was 2-0, and in 1911 2-1, the Giants winning both.

The Giants are dangerous hitters and daring base runners, as the Athletics will discover before the world's series is far along.

With the prospect of a pennant for Philadelphia, I studied the Giant batters more closely than usual, perhaps, as the team was the one we had to beat to win.

Meyers is a natural slugger—hard to fool. He hits anything, yet a times the misses all sorts of pitching. He likes a high ball, close in, but is as good on a low one when he is meeting them. I don't believe any pitcher knows his weakness. Against Meyers I put everything I have on the ball.

Doyle is a slugger, too, but hasn't been hitting much this year. He likes them low, but is deadly on high ones when his eye is on the ball. I have been most successful by making him reach for them.

Snodgrass is a streak hitter. Weeks at a time he can't hit a thing, and all of a sudden he begins, and, no matter what you serve him, he laces it safe. If he has a batting streak during the series, it wouldn't surprise me to see him lead both clubs.

Shafer is one of the best batters on the team, and one of the most scientific hitters in the game. Being a left-hander, he usually hits to right field, but he does place his hits.

Burns is a good hitter. He likes curves. Low balls are his long suit. He isn't so likely to hit a high one, close in. He is the best waiter on the team. He won't go after anything that isn't right over. When the ball is over, both he and Shafer will swing, and they usually land.

Murray is dangerous. Give him a fast one, rather high, and he will murder it. He's not so good on low balls, but likes curves.

Merkle and Fletcher are both high-ball hitters. Let Merkle have one around the shoulders and he will drive it out of the lot. He is weak on low balls, but I have seen him hit low ones to the fence.

Fletcher doesn't like low balls, nor is he keen for curves. He can whale curves, but doesn't hit them so well as the fast ones.

McLean, like Meyers, is a slugger. He doesn't like to reach for them nor does he care to stoop for a low one, but he can hit 'em low when necessary. He dearly loves a high ball.

On the bases the Giants are wonders. Every man, save Meyers and McLean can sprint. They take more chances than any team in the league. They worry pitchers with their long leads, yet they generally beat a snap throw back to the base.

If a pitcher tried to keep the Giants anchored to the bases he'd spend his time watching them. Sometimes the pitchers do catch them, but the chances are overwhelmingly in the Giants' favor. For every man caught, four are not, and that means each advances a base.

The Giants have base running to a science this year, and it is the big reason for their success. They are faster and better than in 1911.

When a pitcher is worried his effectiveness is cut down. The worried pitcher cannot give his entire attention to fooling the batter, and this gives the team at bat a big advantage.

WORLD CHAMPIONS OF 1912 DEFEAT CHAMPION ATHLETICS

Moseley Held Mack's Heavy Hitters to Four Lonely Singles

JOHNSON ADDS ONE MORE

Held New York Yankees to Four Hits and Milan, Foster and Morgan Won Game in the Eighth Inning.

The Philadelphia Athletics, 1913 pennant winners, met the Boston world champions of 1912 yesterday and received at their hands a defeat by a score of four to five. Shawkey and Lapp officiated for the Athletics and Moseley and Thomas for the world champions. The heavy hitting Mack artillery, whom Athletically inclined fans are expecting to knock the stuffing out of McGraw's big four—Mathewson, Marquard, Tesreau and Demaree—were held to four lonely bingles by Moseley.

Two more games will conclude the Athletic series and close the season on the Boston grounds, after which the Athletics go to Washington to try final conclusions with the Senators in a three-game series, going back to the local lot to end the season with three games with the New York Yankees.

Walter Johnson added another victory to his long string for the season, when the Senators defeated the New York Yankees by a five to two score, the game being won in the eighth inning on singles by Milan, Foster and Morgan, with Gandil's sacrifice fly. Ford twirled the Yankees' end of the argument, allowing twleve hits.

THE ETERNAL DOPE.

(By Grantland Rice.)

It Might Be Worse.

(Re-entered through urgent pleadings, coaxing and expostulation.)

When the job on which your toiling gets your goat;
When you curse the grip of poverty and such;
When existency seems to have you by the throat
As you daily stagger onward in its clutch;
When it seems that Fate has nicked you good and hard;
When you've only known the run of fortune's frowns—
When you figure with a curse Life could offer nothing worse
Well, suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns,
Old Dog,
Just suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns?

When they have you on the run across the trail;
When they copper every bet you try to make;
When you start out in the morning, dull and stale,
And the boss begins to brand you as a fake;
When they double cross and slam you on the bean
In the dizzy whirl of Fortune's ups and downs,
Ere you figure with a roar Life has nothing worse in store,
Well, suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns,
Old Dog,
Just suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns?

The Old Continentals at Valley Forge and elsewhere were supposed to be up against it in repelling the British attack—working under a heavy handicap in many ways. But what a clarion cinch their allotment was compared to playing the best ball of Vardon and Ray in defense of the American title.

Giant's Opponents Made Most Homers

Baseball is full of curiosities, one of the oddities of the 1913 campaign being that on the Polo Grounds this year the opponents of the Giants have made more home runs than were manufactured by the McGrawites. The players that invaded Gotham rid their systems of 22 loop-the-loop smashes, while the Manhattan representatives punched out 19 round trip clouts. The homers made by the Giants' adversaries generally turned the tide of battle, while the four-baggers poled by the Giants had seldom much effect on the results of contests, generally being made after the verdict had been decided one way or the other.

It would be well for the Athletic pitchers, during the coming World's series, to keep a watchful eye on Arthur Shafer, as the Californian, a player Mack was after before he was gathered into the McGraw fold, has been the Giants' most active manufacturer of home runs on their home lot this season. Shafer secured five homers, all off right handers. Larry Doyle, who won the Chalmers car offered last season, has made three homers at the Polo Grounds this season, one of these, procured off Otto Hess, of the Braves, came with the bases full. "Chief" Meyers has made three homers in New York this season and so has Charley Herzog, who, by the way, now has a better record as a pinch hitter than Harry McCormick. Fred Snodgrass has made two, Fred Merkle one, Arthur Fletcher one and George Burns one.

Of the homers made by the Giants' opponents at the Polo Grounds this season, the Pirates had six, the Braves four, the Superbas and Cardinals three, and the Reds, Phillies and Cubs two. Tesreau, Fromme and Marquard each yielded five four-baggers, Mathewson was located for four and Crandall, Demaree and Wiltse were each found for one. Max Carey of the Pirates, was the only visiting player to make two homers in the same game (he did this at the expense of Fromme on August 19th) and Ham Hyatt, of the same combination was the only athlete to hit for the circuit when acting as a pinch hitter. Hyatt accomplished this feat on May 16th, when facing Christy Mathewson.

Sad Blow.

It was a terrible blow for the big league clubs to discover this Mr. Quitmet a week after the drafting season had closed. More than one scout will come in for a lusty call down for overlooking such a bet.

The prophecy is made that a long, hard Winter is now ahead. This, of course, will be particularly galling to Athletics and Giants who will divvy up about $4,125,000—which will average only a miserable pittance of $3,000 to the man for almost a week's work.

Mr. Pumpelly, of Yale, may be injured or dismantled for the time being, but this will be of little avail to Princeton if he is able to get in the game within 60 yards of the goal bar 30 seconds before time is called. Unless Princeton at the time is something more than a field goal in front.

They whisper that Eddie Plank is now on his final lap, ready at last to retire to the calm and seclusion of his Gettysburg fortress. The southpaw has drawn a rickety time of it for the last two or three months, but we have an idea that for about one game in the big wind-up he will be a rakish proposition to toy with. Plank started his world series career with a defeat by Mathewson eight years ago. He rallied six years later and cut in with one of the best games of the series, but at the age of 39, in baseball, a stout heart and a clear brain may call upon a pitching arm and get no answer.

Mathewson has dropped four of his last six games. But when a pitcher goes into ten rounds and is beaten 1 to 0, it is rather difficult to deduce any great amount of pessimism over his condition. In the last seven days of the race the Phillies are booked for five and one-ninth double-headers; which is a world's record by the margin of one-ninth.

If Harvard should be unlucky enough to lose eight or ten football stars through injury, the Crimson would have only forty or fifty first-class candidates left to pick from. The main job that confronts Haughton is not in picking an eleven, but in discarding the other forty-two.

SETTING THE STAGE FOR THE BASEBALL CLASSIC.

The National Baseball Commission met at Philadelphia yesterday to formulate rules for the playing of the World Baseball Championship between the Athletics and Giants. The flip ping of the coin, foreordained to give New York the cue for the opening ga me was one of the formalities witnessed by no outsiders.

HOW RATES ARE MUDDLED

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham returned today from the Wilkes county fair and pronounces it quite a creditable presentation of the resources and progress of that section of the State. The fruit exhibits and the presentation of educational progress were especially gratifying. The educational exhibit was installed by Mr. C. C. Wright, who is superintendent of the county public schools, and is a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

A statement from the Corporation Commission today in answer to a feature of the speech of Dr. H. Q. Alexander yesterday at the Freight Rate mass meeting, makes a remarkable showing of how rate conditions are muddled. Dr. Alexander told of having ordered a quantity of rye from Winston-Salem to be shipped to Matthews, Mecklenburg county, and it developed that he had to pay 38 cents per hundred pounds for it freight instead of 20 cents per hundred, which he declared was the rate to Matthews from Richmond or Norfolk. The Corporation Commission statement shows the rate from Winston-Salem to Matthews to be 12 3-4 cents instead of 38 cents and that had Dr. Alexander reported the freight charge to the commission a refund of $7.07 would have been procured for him out of the $10 he says he paid for the freight on the rye.

Charters were issued today for the Norton-Johnson Co., Durham, capital $50,000 authorized and $2,350 subscribed by A. B. Johnson and others for mercantile business. And for the Morehead Coca-Cola Bottling Co., of Wilmington, capital $5,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by C. H. Hutaff and others, with power to operate branch plants in other sections of the State.

Good Roads Days.

The North Carolina Good Roads Association unanimously adopted a resolution calling on Governor Craig to set apart two days in November to be devoted to the building and improvement of highways by the people of the State. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, secretary, said that he had already talked to the Governor about the matter and that the Governor had indicated his readiness to issue such a proclamation. The association went on record for a State highway association to be created at the extra session of the General Assembly, favored bond issues for road building in counties instead of special tax, urged the taking off of all convicts of railroad work where possible, and approved only the Elkin & Allegheny railroad as an enterprise in which the State is justified in lending convicts.

Gubernatorial talk, with A. W. McLean, of Lumberton as the main chance, started off with the extra session of the General Assembly. Overtures were made Raleigh citizens, it was said, to enter the contest, but they declined. Others mentioned as candidates are John D. Bellamy, of New Hanover; Attorney General T. W. Bickett, of Franklin, and Lieutenant Governor E. L. Daughtridge, of Edgecombe. It is said that Dr. H. Q. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, president of the State Farmers' Union, is listening to a little bee that has been buzzing about the State Treasurer's office. Dr. Alexander, it is said, is trying to get that bee under his hat.

GEORGIA CONGRESSMAN DEAD.

Representative Roddenbery, of Georgia, Died Yesterday at Home.

Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 25.—Representative in Congress Seaborn A. Roddenbery who had been ill at his home here since Sunday, died late today.

A nervous breakdown last week forced Representative Roddenbery to drop his work at Washington. At the direction of physicians he came home for a brief vacation. It was believed a short rest would restore him to health, and not until Sunday did his condition become serious.

Early Tuesday Mr. Roddenbery lapsed into a state of partial coma, from which he never completely aroused. His death had been expected hourly since Wednesday night, and his mother, with others of his immediate family, were summoned to his bedside.

Seaborn Anderson Roddenbery was born on a farm in Decatur county, January 12th, 1870. He was graduated from Mercer University at Macon, Ga., in 1891, and the year following occupied the chair of language and mathematics at South Georgia College here. He resigned to take up the study of law, and in 1894 was admitted to the bar.

Congressman Roddenbery first was elected to public office in 1891 at the age of 21 years. He was chosen to represent the local district in the Georgia Legislature and was re-elected a year later. He subsequently served four years as circuit judge, and was Mayor of Thomasville from 1904 to 1906. He was elected to represent the Second Georgia district in the Sixty-first Congress in February, 1910, filling an unexpired term, and was re-elected to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses.

In 1891 Congressman Roddenbery married Miss Jennie Butler, of Camilla, Ga. Mrs. Roddenbery and five children survive him.

BEVILL ESTATE WORTH $150,000.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 25.—The will of the late William E. Bevill was filed with the clerk of the Superior Court today. The executors are Attorney R. P. King, Capt. Neill Ellington and C. L. Bevill, of Fayetteville, a brother of the deceased. The estate is valued at $150,000.

The major portion of the estate goes to an only daughter, Mrs. W. M. Ridenhour. To a sister, Mrs. Hugh Scott, is devised a house in which Mrs. Scott now resides. To another sister, Mrs. W. J. Blackburn, $2,000 in cash was bequeathed. To his brother, Archie Bevill, he devised a one-half interest in some valuable farm lands near Siler City. Mr. Archie Bevill is already the owner of the other half. The remainder of the estate, consisting of the home of the deceased, three business houses on Elm street, bank stock, bonds and other personal property, and some farm property, goes to Mrs. Ridenhour.

A. & M. FOOTBALL.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—The coaches have weeded the A. & M. football squad down to the required number that are allowed to stay out, and now about 35 of the best men who reported for practice at the beginning of the year are working hard every day, and are in pretty good shape to start the season.

The first real scrimmage of the season was held this afternoon on Riddick Field between two picked teams, the 'Varsity having been nearly equally divided, and both sides did some good work. After four short quarters of about five minutes each, one side succeeded in making a touchdown. Nothing was used but regular open play, and the men who made the greatest gains in the backfield were Riddick, Skarry and Tenney, and the men who did the best work in the line were Hurtt, Cooke, Plyler, McHenry, Phillips, Beauregard and Anthony, O. S.

With a little more than a week left before the first game, the prospects are extremely bright, and the team which will represent the Red and White on the gridiron this Fall will be much stronger and faster than the one last year. Scrimmage will be held often from now on, and there will probably be a regular game between the 'Varsity and Scrubs on Saturday afternoon.

The Techs have a stiff schedule this year, there being eight games to be played, six of which will be at home. The fourth game is scheduled with Georgetown to be played here in fair week, October 23rd, and every effort will be put forth to defeat the Hilltoppers and settle old scores for the defeat received from them last year.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the track team last night, it was decided to hold the annual cross-country run on November 8th. A large number of new men were at the meeting, and it is expected that the race this year will be the largest ever held at A. & M. The course will be three miles, and will probably be the same as last year, from the capitol out Hillsboro street to the college and return.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS OUT.

Attorney General to Make Sweeping Changes in Staff.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Attorney General McReynolds is making a sweeping re-organization of the staff of United States attorneys and other Department of Justice attaches throughout the country. Many changes are forecasted.

Pointing out that some of the Federal attorneys holding office had been purely political appointees, officials of the department today declared it was the intention of the attorney general to request their resignations and strengthen the government service.

My cousin suffers regularly as I did, so I told her to try a bottle of Cardui, and see how much good it would do her. So she is taking it now.

How about that broad harbor front for Wilmington?

The trial injustice system in North Carolina needs overhauling.

Many a man who tries to stand on his dignity has standing room only.

Those who feel "all run down" generally run up a bill for patent medicines instead of consulting a doctor.

The consumer wonders where it will end, but he has to endure it till production catches up with consumption.

An offer of $100,000 has been made for Ty Cobb, but it should be stated that he is not wanted for newspaper work.

When a man takes something for granted he feels like throwing it down and kicking himself for taking it that way.

Former President Taft has fallen off 40 pounds, but he has never fallen off the water wagon so as to have to deny it in court.

The best way to attract homeseekers to North Carolina is to spread abroad the concrete achievements of people already here.

When a town gets so big that the circus has to show three miles out from the center of town it begins to put on metropolitan airs.

When a man hasn't got a good reason for what he does he acts sheepish because he is conscious that somebody is about to get his goat.

Some of the most hidebound ethics in the world are so narrow minded and jealous of their fellows that they fail to be the least bit ethical.

Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, having performed no political somersault in the past two or three weeks, has failed to keep himself in the limelight.

The town of Froissy is entirely governed by women. Owing to the feminine dominancy of that burg, its crullers to francs that there is a curfew for men.

When Republicans are in doubt they avoid people who want to know whether they belong to the Old Guard or wish to be ranked as Progressives.

The Democratic party has carried out its platform but it hasn't carried it out and placed it on the junk heap with the platforms of the Republicans and Progressives.

The only reason all men do not quit working to go on the Chautauqua circuit is because they are not sufficiently chattalkative to be entertaining worth a cent.

Sir Oliver Lodge, the English scientist says: "Either we are immortal beings or we are not." His proposition is purely academic but nobody can dispute so simple a statement.

The proposition to tax million dollar incomes 7 per cent would be apt to make money-bags refuse to lend his money at less than 10 per cent so he can make at least 3 per cent on his money.

Wilmington went into it with the understanding that it was a State-wide fight and that interior North Carolina would not use the east to get hers and then let the east go right on shifting for itself.

We have refrained from saying a word about the Ohio man who has succeeded in growing an odorless onion. So far as we are concerned, we would not give a cent for an onion that hasn't got a scent.

Strength to the arm of the New York State Athletic Commission! In prohibiting the Langford-Smith fight appointed to be held tonight in Madison Square Garden because of the rule that bouts between negro and white pugilists should be prohibited, it will win the approbation of all right-thinking people. We have had quite enough of pugilistic exhibitions in which the color line has not been drawn.

WATER FREEDOM FOR NORTH CAROLINA.

All of North Carolina should recognize the great utility of its ports and especially the necessity of a deep water port, since Virginia furnishes us an object lesson so plain that we should learn it without having it mauled into our heads with a baseball bat. Deep water at Norfolk has given Virginia a tremendous commercial advantage over North Carolina. Virginia rates are based on the competitive water rates prevailing at Norfolk, for the rail carriers render that as their defense for discriminating against North Carolina points. Let us reverse the order of the proposition and say that the defense of the railroads is that they charge higher rates in North Carolina because North Carolina hasn't got a port that is recognized as a deep water point, while they are compelled to grant low rates to Virginia for the sole reason that Virginia has a port that all the railroads recognize as a rate-basing port.

That is so absolutely plain and understandable that we don't see how any North Carolinian, anywhere in the State, can doubt that what North Carolina needs is freedom for all her ports and waterways and a deep water port or two that will compel recognition by the railroads which make rates and by the Inter-State Commerce Commission which justifies or at least approves rates. We believe the people of North Carolina are beginning to see the point, for it has been broken off in them by the railroads who plead that their discrimination be excused, recognized and justified on account of deep water at Norfolk. Upon this subject of the water factor in rate-making, the Newbern Journal pointedly remarks:

"It seems to us that there is no reason why any State with access to water transportation, as this State has, should not have the benefit of the lowest freight rates possible. The remedy, it seems to us, would lie, in a great measure, in control of intra-State rates. If the Legislature would fix the rates as Wisconsin has done and compel the carriers to transport freight within the State at reasonable rates, then with water rates to our port cities, like Newbern and Wilmington, we ought to be on a par with Virginia in the matter of freight rates. After controlling intra-State rates the next step would be to develop the ports of the State. Then, in stead of our freight coming to Norfolk by water and thence by rail to the various North Carolina points, as a lot of it does, it would come to Newbern, Wilmington and other ports of the State. We would then get the benefit of the cheap water rate to our ports and the benefit of a cheap railroad rate to intra-State points. The State must aid in the development of the ports. It is a matter of vital concern to the State. A campaign of education should be carried on until the people of the State come to realize this."

The Journal hits the nail on the head and drives it home. North Carolina has all the power that Wisconsin had in settling her rate problem by an act of the Legislature. The Inter-State Commerce Commission has ruled that the State of Wisconsin was entirely within her rights in fixing rates. Any State has the same right, just so its legislation does not go so far as to be confiscatory. However, no State would want to cripple the railroad interests by fixing rates so low that they would be equivalent to confiscation of their legitimate earnings for the benefit of the public. What North Carolina aims at is to secure justice and she has been so mindful of the equities and so considerate of the rights of the railroads that she has treated the matter diplomatically in conferences with the carriers. Thus, North Carolina has shown that she wants to do the right thing by the railroads while insisting upon the just thing for herself as a sovereign State bound by the most solemn obligation to protect her citizens from injustice.

Freights need not necessarily come by the ports in order to give all of North Carolina the benefit. They do not come to Virginia points by way of Norfolk, but at the same time the port of Norfolk is the factor in their salvation. North Carolina wants an enabling act, elastic in character, carrying power to the rightful authority to fix rates in a judicious and judicial manner. The people should have their rights and the railroads should have their remedy in the State as well as the remedy they now have before the Inter-State Commerce Commission at Washington.

Whatever solution of the rate problem North Carolina obtains she should safeguard her ports and waterways, every one of them, for ultimately they are her surest salvation, both as a physical means of relief and as a knock-down argument in securing rates that will not hamper the development of her magnificent resources nor do injury to her great railroad interests.

THE FREIGHT RATE CRISIS.

With the General Assembly of North Carolina convened in extra session on Wednesday and a mass meeting of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association Wednesday afternoon and night at the State capital, it can be said that the crisis in the State-wide fight for just freight rates has arrived. The Legislature organized for business and awaited the hour for the light to be turned on by the Just Freight Rate Association.

The light was turned on all right at the mass meeting of the Association. Despite the recommendation of Governor Craig and the State Corporation Commission, that the latest railroad compromise be accepted, the association declared against compromising the State's sovereignty, demanded legislation assuring just freight rates, and declared for a separate commission to handle, control and adjudicate rates in accordance with the laws of the sovereign State of North Carolina.

That action will be endorsed by the people of North Carolina, possibly with the single exception of the establishment of a commission separate and distinct from the Corporation Commission. As to that, it is within the discretion of the General Assembly to establish another commission or delegate the necessary power to the present commission. Nevertheless, the action of the Just Freight Rate Association in demanding a different commission was a declared lack of confidence in the present commission as constituted. Doubtless the Legislature will take due cognizance of the demand of those who have made the fight for just freight rates, and in the matter of establishing the commission or giving proper power to the old, the General Assembly must be guided by its wisdom and the sentiment of the State.

Governor Craig's position favoring the compromise offered by the railroads was no surprise to those who could put two and two together. His silence following the latest tender by the carriers gave us to understand that he looked upon it with favor. Otherwise he would have been quick to declare his opinion upon his analysis of the proposition by the railroads. The Governor's speech before the association impresses us with his deep sincerity and honest convictions and he will not be without the concurrence of many of the State's ablest men and some of the leading papers of the State. However, with due respect for the Governor's position, we do not hesitate to say that the Hon. Cam Morrison, of Charlotte, asserted and emphasized the sovereignty of the State when he declared that this imperial Commonwealth could get at the railroads legitimately and he wanted to do it.

Granting for the sake of being just, that the railroads' proposition may offer a great measure of relief for portions of the State, Morrison is right in declaring against any surrender of the State's sovereignty in using the power that lies in the General Assembly to control rates, without any compromise or recognition of any second party to the contract. Wisconsin so exercised its sovereignty and its position has been sustained at Washington. North Carolina should not do less than Wisconsin has done and the State owes it to a long-suffering people to exercise its power just as the State of Wisconsin has done.

The opportunity is here to do that and the opportunity also is here to give the railroads a square deal. North Carolina should assert itself as a State that is conscious of its sovereignty and great power and at the same time hold the balances evenly between her people and the public carriers that are acknowledged factors in developing the State. They are entitled to its just consideration. They and the people are entitled to its protection.

It is now up to the Legislature to act in its wisdom and see that there is freedom for the immense commercial, manufacturing and agricultural interests of every portion of the State.

PANAMA TRAFFIC.

The Gulf ports are making great preparations for sharing in Panama canal traffic. While the ports are putting in great terminals, the railroads are making ready to use them in building up their volume of business. The board of directors of the Missouri Pacific, the Texas & Pacific and the International and Great Northern railroads recently met at Denver and voted an appropriation of $11,000,000 for the development of new trade routes from the Gulf to South American ports in anticipation of the opening of the canal.

Huge docks, piers and warehouses are being constructed at all the Gulf ports and millions of dollars are being expended in preparation for canal trade. The business men of the ports know it is coming and they are going to see that it shall come their way.

Unsettled conditions are costly to any country that needs development. When Mexico's revolutionary troubles began 3,000 Americans were engaged in enterprises in Durango. Large numbers of other foreigners have also left the State. All but 25 Americans have left and development is at a standstill. The New York World pointedly remarks that "this is one of the costs of misrule, which will figure largely in the total losses." It also might be said that the dissatisfaction and turmoil in Mexico was caused by the long lease on power held by President Diaz. We don't think Col. Roosevelt or anybody else with third term ideas can bring about the Diazification of the United States.

The lower House of the North Carolina General Assembly, in its resolution adopted yesterday requesting the Corporation Commission to furnish the names of all members of the Legislature holding railroad passes or being in the employ of railroads, went a long way towards clarifying the atmosphere in the long and heated discussion of the freight rate problem that is bound to ensue at the present extra session to deal with the freight rate problem.

It is said President Wilson probably will accede to the appeal of the Woman's Political Union to permit Mrs. Pankhurst to land. We have an idea, however, that if any smart Alec nags at her she will land a few on his jaw.

Memphis is rapidly attracting enterprises and population by her ideal commission government. The officials of Memphis are men of such ability that they are conducting an illustrated magazine to give publicity to their city.

Republican officeholders do not have to retire under fire unless they persist in holding on to office till it exhausts the patience of those who are anxious to get to the pie counter while the pie looks good.

CURRENT COMMENT.

In his new book, "John Barleycorn," Jack London relates his youthful carousals stimulated by whiskey. Probably Jack will go into history as the first man to be able to thus sell his crop of wild oats.—New Orleans States.

Our ever-energetic and optimistic friend and fellow citizen, Mr. E. B. Stevens, has returned from his trip to the North, where he visited all of his children. While on the trip he stopped at several different cities in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan, among the cities of importance reached by him being Chicago, Detroit and Akron, Ohio. While in the State of Pennsylvania, he met and conferred with several prospective immigrants and not only distributed some literature and boosted our section, but actually succeeded in getting a number of them to promise to visit Southport with a view of buying land and locating in the county to farm.—Southport News.

The Observer felicitates the State House of Representatives upon the selection for Speaker of Walter Murphy, of Salisbury. Nothing in the reported eulogies by his nominators overstates the case. His acknowledged skill as a parliamentarian was rightly emphasized, and the duties incumbent upon him in this tense and possibly trying period will be further smoothed by the personal liking entertained for him in every quarter of every political camp. We doubt, indeed, if there is any one else whose personal acquaintance among our tribunes of the people ramifies so extensively as his. They and thousands of others are glad that Mr. Murphy—Mr. "Pete" Murphy—will be Speaker of the House.—Charlotte Observer.

It is only as a beginning of the fight to secure for all North Carolina just freight rates that there should be any consideration given to the proposal of the railroads to reduce freight rates from certain sections and on certain commodities to various zones and specified points. If there is to be coupled with the proposal any stipulation which would bind North Carolina to cease its efforts in any direction in its fight to secure justice there should be no consideration given to the matter. The position of Governor Craig and the Legislative Commission, and the position of the Just Freight Rate Association will both be reviewed by the General Assembly. That body should approach its consideration of the subject with the determination to be guided by practical business reasons in reaching a conclusion, one which will do justice to all North Carolina and which will compromise no right of this sovereign State and no principle underlying the fight of its people for justice.—Raleigh News and Observer.

THE STAR'S NEW HOME.

We offer congratulations and best wishes to our neighbor, The Morning Star, upon the completion of its 93rd volume and the acquisition during the past few days of a most substantial and commodious home for our able and brilliant cantemporary in the future. The Star is not only the oldest daily paper in North Carolina, but is today one of the most substantial-wide-awake and best edited all round newspapers in the South. As a matter of fact, it has always been in able hands from an editorial as well as a news standpoint. Its policy has invariably been wise, conservative, safe and sane. For the upbuilding of Eastern North Carolina, commercially, industrially and otherwise it has taken an advance position and never grows weary in well-doing. It is rendering a service today for untangling the freight rate question and enlightening the public on this subject unsurpassed by any other publication in the State and in this laudable work is rendering the State and our people a service that richly merits the hearty support and enthusiastic co-operation of everybody. May it continue to shine and illuminate the pathway of right and justice, morality and integrity, virtue and truth. Long live The Star. "tar, pitch and turpentine."—Carolina Fruit & Tuckers' Journal.

Congratulations to The Wilmington Star, the best daily in the State, which celebrated its 46th birthday yesterday.—Robeson Advance.

Yesterday was the 46th anniversary of the Morning Star, Wilmington, yet there is not the least sign of age and decrepitude about the paper. It is to move into a home of its own about the first of the year. When Major Bernard founded the Star a thousand newspaper men had no idea he could make it a success, but his perseverance told in the end.—Greensboro Record.

The Wilmington Star has just purchased a new home and passed another of its many birthdays, giving it bright hopes for the future as well as an enviable past record. We hope the personel of this ever welcomed daily will enjoy the pleasures deserved and meet with abundance of the bivalves so coveted and have to encounter more sun-baked watermelons, as complained of the past season.—Bladen Journal.

This News of a Great and Busy Store

A FEW OF THE ROOT IDEAS

With crystal clearness, we would like to place before the people certain facts about this business:

It has all grown up from a little stalk, planted by its present owner. It has been watched, pruned, grafted, guided and guarded to its present fruit-bearing condition.

It masters and condenses the weekly news of Fresh Merchandise for the information of the people.

The Store Advertisement is a peal of bells, ringing truthfully and clearly for more than a quarter of a century. The Store is vivid in individuality. Its every movement is directed by a definite purpose of mutual helpfulness.

We know our city better and we have planned and provided accordingly, for the larger business expected.

Improvements have been made at at least a dozen points; many assortments are larger and finer.

Autumn fashion unfolding some of the delightfullest. Some of these new Suits are perfect dreams, and the prices so reasonable—$12.50, $15, $18, $22.50, $25, $27.50 and $30.

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

There is usually a certain degree of dread in every woman's mind as to the probable pain, distress and danger of child-birth. But, thanks to a most remarkable remedy known as Mother's Friend, all fear is banished and the period is one of unbounded, joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is used externally. It is a most penetrating application, makes the muscles of the stomach and abdomen pliant so they expand easily and naturally without pain, without distress and with none of that peculiar nausea, nervousness and other symptoms that tend to weaken the prospective mother. Thus Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of a little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy families.

There are thousands of women who have used Mother's Friend, and thus know from experience that it is one of our greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood. It is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle, and is especially recommended as a preventive of caking breasts and all other such distresses.

MILLION DOLLARS CAPITAL

Murchison National Bank, Strongest National Bank of Carolinas, Adds $175,000 to Its Stock—Increase Usefulness.

The Murchison National Bank, the largest National bank in the Carolinas, and carrying the largest amount of deposits of any bank in the State, will increase its capital stock from $825,000 to $1,000,000. This step, which has been considered for some time, was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the directors of the institution yesterday. The directors passed a resolution recommending to the shareholders that the stock be increased to the amount stated and a meeting of the stockholders will be held on November 4th for the purpose of taking action on the recommendation.

This step was taken in order to increase the usefulness of the bank in this city and section. The Murchison has long been known as one of the leading financial institutions of the Carolinas and has grown steadily from year to year. The increased capital stock will make the institution even stronger and will enable it to further extend its business. No other National bank in the Carolinas has the capital stock that this bank has and in deposits it leads all other banks of the two States.

Recently the Southern National Bank was merged with the Murchison and mention was made at that time that the bank would shortly increase its capital stock probably up to a million. While the increase decided upon by the directors, which will most likely be ratified by the stockholders who alone have the power in such matters, will be taken largely by the present stockholders of the Murchison it is understood that arrangements will be made with them so that invitation will be extended to stockholders and customers of the former Southern National Bank to become interested.

The Murchison some months ago purchased the valuable property at the northwest corner of Front and Chesnut streets, now occupied by the Cape Fear Club, and as soon as that organization removes to its new home, now nearing completion, at the southeast corner of Second and Chesnut streets, work of tearing away the present wooden structure and the erection of a new and modern banking house will be begun. It has been decided definitely not to erect an office building, and the structure will be built solely with the idea of affording handsome and commodious banking quarters.

NEW BOAT ON RIVER.

Captain Harper Places Steamer Ella in Service Next Week.

The following is from yesterday's issue of The Southport News:

"Captain J. W. Harper will add another boat to his line plying between Southport, Fort Caswell and Wilmington. The steamer Ella, sister ship to the Wilmington, in charge of Capt. Fred Harper, will be put on, beginning next Monday, the 29th. The Ella will leave here every morning at 7 o'clock, returning in the afternoon will leave Wilmington at 2:30, thus giving those who wish to visit Wilmington from four to five hours in the city to transact business and return the same day. The round trip will be only 75 cents. Tickets good for one day only will be sold for this boat. The Ella will anchor for the night after reaching here at the Harper dock.

"The steamer Wilmington will leave Wilmington at 9:30 A. M., reaching here at 12, and depart at 2:30, as at present. Capt. J. W. Harper will remain as captain of the Wilmington. Freight for this boat will be received at Wilmington at 9:30 A. M., and at Southport at 2:30 P. M.

"The people of Southport will no doubt greatly appreciate this new boat, as its inauguration will not only afford a day trip to the city, but the cheap round trip fare will come in very nicely.

"The Harper line is all right."

CARRIED WOMAN TO STATION.

Policeman Hall Found New Use for Motorcycle Yesterday.

Policeman T. M. Hall, the popular officer at the City Hall, whose special duty is to ride the police motorcycle whenever it is needed, has many errands to perform such as going to various sections of the city and stopping dog fights and other difficulties, but he found an entirely new field of operations yesterday when he was called on by Chief Williams to transport a woman to the union station on his machine.

She had come here and found herself in a stranded condition. Good friends had given her funds with which to purchase a ticket to Charlotte where she said her home was. She came down to the police station and being rather talkative kept the officers busy answering inquiries until about 10 minutes before the train left. She didn't have time to walk so she had to ride. Officer Hall had his machine, and it would only take a minute to go that way, and that is the way they went.

Although she was portly, weighing a full 200, she made the trip safely on the rear seat, and Officer Hall has added another feather in his cap as a faithful, diligent and useful officer. He is always on the job, and answers every call with alacrity.

CAPIASES TO ISSUE.

Delinquents Have a Few More Days in Which to Pay Up.

Maj. W. N. Harriss, Clerk of Superior Court, announced yesterday that capiases would be issued October 1st for all those who were indicted by the last grand jury for failure to list their taxes, who have not called to see him in the meantime, adjusted the costs and listed their taxes. Major Harriss said that the solicitor had been very lenient with those who were indicted, desiring to give them every opportunity to save the costs of capiases, but that he would not wait longer than next Wednesday. Indictments were brought against about 300 persons for failure to list their taxes. Only a few of these have gone to the clerk and settled the amount of the casts, which is $7.25. If capias has to be issued the amount will be $9.25. This in addition to the amount of the tax, which will have to be paid anyway when due.

Occupy New Offices.

The R. G. Dun Co. has moved into its handsome new offices in the Atlantic Trust & Banking Co.'s building, corner Front and Market streets. The firm occupies half of the third floor, giving it a suite of three rooms, easily reached by modern and up-to-date elevator service. The offices in the skyscraper are being rapidly occupied now.

MOVING SEASON IS ON HAND

Indications Are That Fewer Families Will Change Residences—Demand for Houses Greater Than Supply.

Annual moving day, October 1st, is fast approaching and the transfer man is happy for from now until the last family is moved he will be the most sought man in the city. It is his annual harvest season and he looks forward to it with the greatest pleasure. Already those who are able to do so are moving in order to avoid the tremendous rush that always comes at the end of the month.

The housewife always looks forward to moving with dread for it means for her much hard work, worry and aggravation. It is she who must look after the furniture and see that it is properly placed. Her presence is needed at both ends of line, and as she cannot be at both places at once she is kept busy going back and forth from the old home to the new.

The head of the family also dreads it for it means that he must be kept busy trying to look after his business affairs and also seeing that the family is safely domiciled in the new residence. But this worry is tempered by the knowledge that soon the family will be settled in their new home, and able to enjoy the pleasant days of the Fall and Winter.

It is the general concensus of opinion among the real estate agents of the city that there will be fewer removals this year than usual owing to the fact that there is a scarcity of residences of the better class. Practically all of them are receiving more calls for houses than they can accommodate. In many cases two families are living in one house, and one would like to have a separate residence, but is unable to move because there is no place to go to.

Then, too, there have been a number of newcomers to the city who want residences for their families, but frequently they experience difficulty in finding them. One real estate agent stated yesterday that he had received three calls for residences yesterday from gentlemen who had just moved to the city, but was unable to rent them one because he had none to rent.

During the Summer on account of the slight depression in financial matters there was no cessation of building activities to a certain extent, but with the bright prospects now in view the indications are that building of residences will be resumed.

There has been an increase of rents in some cases, some of these being due to improvements made on the property. October 1st is the time that most of the real estate agents take for adjusting rents for the year, and where improvements have been made during the preceding year the increase of rent is made to begin October 1st instead of the time when the improvements were made.

One real estate man stated yesterday that in some cases owners had felt obliged to increase their rents slightly above the former price on account of the increased taxes that they have to pay. He did not think that the total number increasing rents would amount to over 10 per cent. of all the houses listed in his agency. The increase will go considerably beyond 10 per cent. in many others, however.

DREDGING THE CAPE FEAR.

Rapid Progress Made in Widening and Deepening River Channel.

The report of Assistant Engineer R. C. Merritt, in charge of the government canalization project for widening the channel of the lower Cape Fear, to Maj. H. W. Stickle, in charge of the United States Engineer office here, shows that during the ten days beginning September 11th and closing with the 20th there were removed from the river channel and the ocean bar 61,659 cubic yards of material. This is slightly less than the usual amount removed during a period of ten days, but shows something of the rapid progress that is being made on the project.

The dredge Cape Fear dredged on the ocean bar and Snow's Marsh channel moved approximately 23,982 cubic yards of material from the ocean bar and 560 cubic yards from Snow's Marsh.

The dredge Hercules removed from Log's and Big Island Shoal material to the amount of 15,000 cubic yards. Several stumps and logs were also removed.

The Potomac, a dredge working under the contract with the Southern Bowers Dredging Co., of Galveston, Texas, removed from Lilliput Shoal approximately 5,325 cubic yards of material.

Dredge No. 9, working under the same contract, removed from Midnight Shoal approximately 16,791 cubic yards of material.

ESTATE VALUED AT MILLION.

The Late Mr. Matthew J. Heyer Left Considerable Property.

The late Mr. Matthew J. Heyer, whose death occurred a few weeks ago after a long period of failing health, died without leaving a will, and his son, Henry Heyer, Esq., yesterday qualified as administrator before the Clerk of Superior Court. He will take charge of all the property left by his father and will administer the estate. It has been reported that Mr. Heyer was worth close around a million dollars and there are those in rather close touch with his affairs who assert that to their own knowledge he was worth more than $600,000. Mr. Heyer was a shrewd business man and knew how to save money as well as to make it and none doubt that he was worth between $500,000 and a million at the time of his death.

Young Mr. Heyer gave the customary bond of $20,000 as administrator of the personal property of his father, no bond being required for the real estate. Mr. Heyer remarked in the office of the Clerk of the Court, in response to a question, that he did not know yet the value of the estate.

Real Estate Transfers.

Gaskins, for $700 and other considerations, lot at Carolina Place, on south side of Pender avenue, 132 feet east of 20th street, 66x113 feet in size.

MAY HAVE INDUSTRIAL CLUB

Rumor of Having New Organization Composed of Business and Professional Men to Boost Wilmington.

The recent strong condemnation of the present commission form of government by the Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting and the severe criticism of the Chamber of Commerce by members of the Council at their meeting Wednesday morning, have provoked much discussion among the citizens of the city, and one result of the controversy may be the organization of another commercial and industrial club composed of business and professional men of all classes, young and old, which shall have as its object the boosting of the city's many advantages.

One citizen yesterday interviewed several business men with reference to the new organization which it is proposed to make representative of every class of business and professional life. He made inquiries to find out what material assistance could be secured for such an organization, and received some encouragement. If sufficient support is received there is every reason to believe that the movement will succeed.

The plan discussed contemplates an organization similar to that of the Greater Charlotte Club in Charlotte, which shall be entirely separate and apart from the Chamber of Commerce. It would not interfere with the work that the Chamber of Commerce is doing, but would simply be an organization devoted to the advancement of the city's interests along all lines. It would really augment the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

Definite particulars of the proposed club cannot be had for the reason that the movement has not been fully launched, having gone no further than to secure the views of certain business men as to what they think of it. A movement for the organization of such a body was started several years ago, but never materialized into anything definite, although it did get as far as the formation of a temporary organization.

It is not known what action the Chamber of Commerce will take regarding the severe indictment of this body by members of the Council. At the last meeting a committee was appointed to take up the matter of drafting a bill providing a concurrent municipal board to act with the present Council in financial matters. This committee will doubtless make its report at the next meeting. It is not unlikely that a meeting will be called some time this week.

GIVES UP FIGHT.

Mrs. Swift, of Atlanta, Reported to be Near Death—Contrast.

In yesterday's Star there was reproduced an article from Wednesday's Atlanta Georgian relative to the fight to be made for the custody of the three-year-old child of Mrs. Jacque Bradley Swift, who spent the Summer at Wrightsville Beach. Yesterday's Georgian states that she is dying in Atlanta and will quit the fight. The following is the article from the Georgia paper:

"Mrs. Jacque Bradley Swift, against whom notice of a temporary restraining order was filed Tuesday by her former husband, Charles Thomas Swift, known to hundreds of friends as Tom, is reported to be dying in a private home in Atlanta.

"Surrounded by a few staunch friends, Mrs. Swift is said to be approaching death as the result of an illness from which she has suffered for many weeks. Her condition first became dangerous several weeks ago when she returned to Atlanta, after a Summer spent at Wrightsville Beach. She weakened rapidly and all efforts to stop the ravages of her illness have been futile. Dr. W. E. Yankey, who has offices in the Empire Life Building, is in attendance on Mrs. Swift.

"Mrs. Swift is making no move to fight the restraining order. While the purport of the order has been carefully guarded by Swift's attorneys, it is supposed to involve the custody of the three-year-old Swift child. The child, though awarded to the mother at the end of the divorce suit is now in the possession of Swift. Friends of Mrs. Swift declare that the dying woman expressed no interest in this action of her former husband; that she has rallied all of her fighting strength toward but one thing—to save her own life.

"In striking contrast to the beautiful and vivacious woman is the Mrs. Swift of today. Once a popular stage favorite and a sparkling follower of the White Way, she has been transformed into a weakened and wasted woman who lives but with one desire—that she may continue to live.

"Swift is reported to be in Atlanta now consulting with his attorneys on the proceedings which he has instituted. He is the son of Mrs. Lent Swift-Huntley, of Peachtree and Fifteenth streets, who is said to be worth several million dollars."

Escaped Convict Arrested.

Nathaniel Ballard, colored, who escaped from the county convict camp about three weeks ago, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Officer T. M. Hall at the home of his mother, corner Eighth and Nixon streets. Ballard was sent to the roads for 12 months by the Recorder two months ago for the larceny of a pair of shoes from Mercer & Evans. He served one month of the term and made his escape. Since that time he has been wandering around in various cities but couldn't resist the temptation to come home. He had not been returned to the camp yesterday.

PIMPLES ALL OVER FACE.

Cleared by Saxo Salve After Everything Else Had Failed.

Miss Bertha Timmerman, Salisbury Centre, N. Y., says: "About three years ago my face began to break out with pimples. They would be red and sore at first, and in a short time would gather, and then I would have to pinch them out. After a while my face was so sore I could not bear to touch it. I tried many remedies which were recommended, but they did not do a particle of good until I thought nothing would help me. About a week ago I went to Little Falls to visit my aunt, and she told me her little baby had been cured of Eczema by Saxo Salve. I bought a tube and after only using it a short time, it began to help me, until now my face is quite clear and all the pimples and eruptions have disappeared."

In all forms of eczema and all other crusted or scaly humors and eruptions, Saxo Salve has given astonishingly good results.

We have so much confidence in it that we give back your money if you are not satisfied. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

WILL GET EXPERT ON WATER

Will Make Study of Local Conditions With Reference to Deep Well Water Supply and Advise Council.

Councilman Wood, in charge of the Department of Water and Sewerage, has been prevailed upon by other members of Council to hold in abeyance his plan for sinking several deep wells from which to secure the public water supply instead of using the Cape Fear river water as at present.

Councilman Wood acquiesced to the wishes of his colleagues on the board only after assured that their purpose in delaying the commencement of the work is to secure the advice of a water expert before beginning. Councilman Loughlin informed members of Council at the meeting Wednesday morning that he had already had considerable correspondence with a man by the name of Mason, who is a qualified expert on the subject of water and water supply. Councilman Loughlin pointed out that it is very important to engage the services of an expert to make a thorough study of the rock stratum, possible supply of water underlying, etc., and make report of his findings and conclusions as to whether or not in his opinion pure water of sufficient quantity to supply the needs of the city can be secured from deep wells and, if so, to designate the spot where the wells should be sunk. He thought the services of an expert could be had for a sum not exceeding $500 and considered it would be money wisely spent if the Council is determined to take up the question of deep water supply. To proceed without the advice of an expert who had studied the situation carefully would be like building a house without plans, he said. He wanted the city to proceed along scientific lines in its effort to obtain water from deep wells. There is no question, he said, that pure water for drinking purposes can be obtained, but that there is grave doubt of the supply being sufficient to meet the requirements of a city like Wilmington. After studying the situation with reference to rock stratum, history of the several wells that have been sunk here, Councilman Loughlin thought an expert would be able to give Council something definite upon which to work.

Councilman Wood favored going ahead with a deep well, not less than 12 inches and preferably 14, in size, on the city property in the northeastern part of the city and when that is completed start another and so on until a number sufficient to supply the city with water have been provided. He is confident that pure water can be had in quantity sufficient to meet the needs of Wilmington and suburbs. But in deference to the wishes of Councilman Loughlin and other members of the Council he agreed to wait for the opinion of the expert, whose services will probably be authorized at the next meeting of the Council. Councilman Wood and family will move back to the city today from Southport, where they have been spending the Summer and Councilman Wood will devote a great deal of his time to the city's affairs from now on.

The Water and Sewerage Department has decided, so Councilman Wood reported to the meeting Wednesday, that it has sufficient money on hand to warrant the construction of water main down Princess street to Winoca Terrace, which was petitioned for some weks ago. The city engineer has been asked to prepare specifications, etc., and ask for bids for doing the work.

There is a controversy on between the City Council, and the County Commissioners with regard to the payment by the county of one-fifth of the cost of doing the scavenging work in the city. The question came up before the Council Wednesday in the form of a communication from the County Board of Commissioners and action was deferred until next meeting. The agreement entered into between the Council and the County Board of Health at the time the scavenging was taken over by the city, was to the effect that the latter would relieve the city and county of payment of the balance of the appropriation for scavenging work for the year. The city had appropriated four-fifths of the estimated cost of the work and the county one-fifth, as it is provided by statute that all expense of the health and sanitary work shall be borne. The city contends that the one-fifth appropriated by the county should now be paid over to the city by the county. The county on the other hand contends that the agreement entered into with the Board of Health releases the Commissioners from the one-fifth. But then there is the law, which says the county must pay one-fifth of the cost. In view of the contemplated changes in the health bill at the present session of the Legislature, Council decided to defer action.

CAR SERVICE EXTENDED.

Carolina Place Will Have Trolley Line Within Ninety Days.

Within a period of 90 days the Tidewater Power Company expects to have its car service extended to Carolina Place, one of the flourishing suburbs of the city. The work of grading the streets to be traversed preparatory to laying the rails has already begun, and will be finished within 30 or 40 days. It will require some little time after this to get the track in shape, but by the first of the year the cars will be in active operation. Convenient schedules will be maintained with the city suburban service of the Tidewater Power Company.

The extension will connect with the present line at 17th street and Perry avenues. It will pass along Perry avenue from 17th to 20th street, turning thence southward along 20th street to Wrightsville Boulevard.

An agreement was made with the Tidewater Power Company several years ago that when the number of houses at Carolina Place reached a certain number that car service would be installed. This requirement was met some time ago, and when the matter was taken up with the officials of the traction company they readily consented to carry out their part of the agreement. The population has been growing rapidly for several years, and with the increased facilities provided which make it decidedly more convenient for those who have business enterprises in the city it should grow even more rapidly now.

Chancy Hill Goes to Jail.

The affidavit was made out by Mr. H. Mack Godwin. In default of bond in the sum of $100 he was committed to jail, and will have a hearing today before Justice Harriss.

TWO SMALL BLAZES.

Fire Department Called Out Twice Yesterday—Slight Damage.

A match dropped into a basket of clothes at the Eureka Dye Works, No. 105 North Second street, yesterday afternoon at 4:45 caused a small blaze which was soon extinguished. The fire alarm was sounded and the fire department turned out in full force, but their services were not required. The loss was small.

The burning out of a small dynamo used for running the elevator in the building occupied by the Sterchi-Bancroft-Rich Co., No. 110-112 North Front street, last night at 7 o'clock again called out the department. There was no damage done except to the dynamo.

The constant sounding of the fire alarm yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock caused some little excitement, especially as the signal was one totally different from any that people were acquainted with. It was occasioned by the testing of a new fire box, No. 57, which was installed yesterday at corner Tenth and Castle streets.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Mary McDuffie, colored, was tried yesterday before Justice Harriss on a charge of vagrancy. She was found guilty and taxed with the costs.

—A building permit was issued yesterday to O. F. Ward for the erection of a two-story residence with nine rooms on Fifth street, between Walnut and Red Cross, the estimated cost being $2,500.

—Mrs. Lula Coates and Mrs. Ella Clemmons, who were arrested Wednesday on charges of vagrancy failed to appear for trial yesterday afternoon before Justice Harriss. Capiases were issued for them but it is not likely that they will be served as it is supposed that they have left the city.

—Pet Willis, colored, was placed under a bond of $100 yesterday afternoon by Justice Harriss to keep the peace for six months. The warrant against him was sworn out by Mary McDuffie, colored. He struck her, it was alleged, and was made to pay a fine of $10 and costs by the Recorder yesterday.

GAME LAWS CHANGED.

Shooting Season for Quail Begins November 15th—Other Laws.

There have been some changes in the game laws of New Hanover county in order to curtail the number of birds and animals that fall victim to the guns of the hunters. Formerly the open season for quail was from November 1st to March 1st, but the last Legislature changed the law so as to make the open season from November 15th to February 15th. Woodcock, snipe and rabbits may be shot from November 1st to March 1st. Marsh hens and other shore birds may be killed from September 1st until March 1st. The open season for deer began September 1st.

She Failed to Leave.

Ethel Austin, a young white woman, arrested Wednesday on a charge of vagrancy, failed to leave last night as she had promised to do. Funds were raised and a ticket purchased for her transportation to Boston, Mass., where she said her home was. She gave as her reason the failure to receive some laundry. Justice Harriss issued an alias warrant for her, which was served by Deputy A. L. Kelly. When brought before Justice Harriss last night he sentenced her to 30 days on the county farm with the understanding that judgment would be suspended if she leaves the city by 9 o'clock this morning. She was allowed to go to her boarding place last night.

YOUNG WAITRESS DIES.

Miss Mary Shoe May Have Taken Too Much Headache Powder.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 25.—Miss Mary Shoe, formerly a waitress at the Zinzendorf hotel in Winston-Salem, died early this morning in the Guilford hospital here, after she had been in a lethargic condition for several hours. Death came a few minutes after 12 o'clock. Whether the drug was taken purposely or by accident is not known.

The young woman, apparently 19 years of age, arrived here at 6 o'clock yesterday evening from Winston, and went immediately to the Guilford. She had come to be a waitress in the hotel. She complained of a headache when she went to her room, but was otherwise apparently in good health. She sat down on the bed and soon fell to sleep, from which she never awoke.

About midnight another girl in the hotel called at her room and getting no response, she went in to ascertain the trouble. Failing to arouse the young woman, a doctor and nurse were called, but before the physician arrived the young life passed away. The woman may have taken the drug, which was probably opium, to relieve her of the headache. No reason for suicide is known.

She was a native of China Grove and her parents live there. A brother, Clarence Shoe, is connected with the Yarborough hotel at Raleigh. She brought with her to the hotel a hand bag, but an examination of this showed that she had no letters, nor was there anything else to indicate any purpose on her part to take her life.

STATE BANKERS TO MEET.

Will Discuss Currency—Raleigh Banks "Flush."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—The local bankers were notified today by Secretary W. A. Hunt that the executive committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association is called to meet in Raleigh Monday, September 29th, to consider the currency bill now pending before the National Congress. The session will be in Yarborough Hotel.

It is learned that the Raleigh banks have notified the United States Treasury Department that the $300,000 offered to the Raleigh banks for crop moving purposes will not be needed. The bankers say they have ample funds through regular channels for all legitimate purposes.

It has been definitely agreed among the lawmakers assembled here for the extraordinary session of the General Assembly that the Senate will take up forthwith the proposals for the amendment of the State Constitution and the House will get right into the work of threshing out the proposal from the railroad companies for settlement of the freight rate differences. In this way much time will be saved and it is hoped to complete the work of the session well within the 20 days' limit fixed on special sessions by the constitution.

Washington stands first in lumber production, with Louisiana second.

SPUR TRACK BEING BUILT.

Will be Used by Plant of Atlantic Coast Veneering Company.

Excavations on King street in the northeastern part of the city are being made by a crew of the Atlantic Coast Line preparatory to the laying of a spur track to the proposed plant of the Atlantic Coast Veneering Company at Love Grove. Work was begun Tuesday, but was stopped by the police, who arrested the foreman, Mr. J. H. Langley, for making excavations on a street of the city without securing the permission of the Council. A franchise was granted by the Council Wednesday morning, subject to the approval of the city engineer and the city attorney, and it was agreed that work might be resumed immediately.

Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., general counsel of the Atlantic Coast Line, went before the Council to ask for the permit. He stated incidentally that he desired to apologize to the city for his company's having started work on the construction of the track without permission of the Council, this being due entirely, he said, to a mistake in orders issued from the office at Rocky Mount. The case against Mr. Langley was nol prossed in the Recorder's court yesterday.

RESUME HEARING TODAY.

Coroner's Jury Will Continue Investigation of Murder.

The coroner's jury investigating the circumstances of the death of Alonzo Green, colored, who was murdered just beyond Hilton Park Sunday night, will resume its sittings this afternoon at 4 o'clock when it is hoped to establish the identity of the person who committed the crime. The jury was in session Monday and Tuesday at which some testimony was heard. The identity of the dead negro was established and the fact was brought out that the murder was probably committed about 11:15 o'clock Sunday night. One or two witnesses were summoned yesterday and they are expected to give testimony this afternoon.

..Theatrical..

Tomorrow, for matinee and night, the Academy of Music promises a splendid production by a Metropolitan cast, one of New York's biggest dramatic successes of last season, "The Deep Purple." Seats for both performances will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The attraction comes highly praised by the press. In speaking about the performance in its city the Winston-Salem Journal of Wednesday among other things said: "The company was capable and well balanced and the play was staged in satisfactory manner. It abounded in interesting and exciting scenes and situations and gave general satisfaction."

The Virginia press has also lavished tribute upon "The Deep Purple," which, while a play of the hour, is one of wholesomeness, which is contrary to the opinion some have formed.

The Popular Bijou.

These are certainly big days at the popular Bijou, where the temperature is always just right—cooling in Summer and warm and refreshing in Winter, due to the theatre's extensive electric system. Today will not be an exception to the rule, as one of the best bills ever will be presented. Heading today's swell show is Kalem's intensely dramatic, "The Blind Basket Weaver," telling of a blind man, who is loved by a cripple and also by a young woman of perfect physical make-up. An eminent specialist finds he can cure the blindness and then what happens is told in pathetic scenes of tragedy, as the crippled girl realizes he will see and behold her deformed body. It is a wonderful film story. "Good Night Nurse" is the latest topical fun photoplay and it's a rattler. It should not be missed. There's also a big educational film on in "Up Lookout Mountain on the Electric Incline."

Big Dramatic at Grand.

"Slim Driscoll, Samaritan," the Vitagraph's muchly heralded dramatic, being a story of a crook who wants to reform and finally does, heads a big list of good things at the cozy, handsome Grand Theatre today. It is a film that should be seen by all. It unfolds the story, in graphic manner, too, of a burglar who resolves to lead a righteous life. He is forced back into the game by the police, who do not believe he is sincere, but at the risk of liberty saves the wife of a police surgeon. He is allowed to escape and thereafter manages to walk the straight and narrow path. Edison presents a daisy fun-maker today in "Starved Out", being a tale of two lovers and what occurs when a chaperone butts in.

There is also a fine Essanay on today's bill in "Love Theft." It presents a rich, merry story that will make a big hit with all.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Barney Helms, Colored, Given Three Months on Roads—Appeals.

Barney Helms, colored, charged with the larceny of six sides of meat from a freight car, was sentenced yesterday by Acting Recorder Harriss, who presided, to three months on the roads. The evidence against him is entirely circumstantial, as he said that he purchased the meat. He appealed to Superior Court, and gave bond for his appearance.

Pet Willis, colored, was fined $10 and the costs for slapping Mary McDuffy, colored. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against John Herring, colored, charged with violating the automobile law. A nol pros with leave was taken in a case against Mr. J. H. Langley, charged with making excavations on King street without proper authority. The work was stopped until the matter could be passed on by the Council. The case against Herbert Mason, charged with embezzlement, was continued until Tuesday on account of the illness of Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., one of the attorneys for the prosecution.

—Mr. W. B. Wynn, of Wampee, S. C., was in the city yesterday.

How to get the most from a pound of coffee

First, get a coffee that has been thoroughly aged when green. Proper aging changes the raw, strong taste of the bean to a mellow, rich flavor.

Next, it must be roasted by experts under perfect conditions. Skillful roasting brings out the full delicacy of the natural flavor. Unskillful roasting spoils the flavor and causes a heavy and wasteful loss in weight. Coffee roasted at home, for instance, loses 25%—a quarter of your money is gone before the coffee even gets to the pot!

Finally, coffee must be packed in a way that will keep it fresh, and protect it from outside odors, and from moisture. In Arbuckles' Coffee you get all these advantages. You get a coffee thoroughly aged when green; skillfully and uniformly roasted; then guarded from moisture and odors in special, sanitary, sealed packages.

Every package of Arbuckles' Coffee has the same strength and the same fine, full flavor. If you haven't used it lately, do so now. See what big value you get for your money—how the delicious flavor will please and satisfy. Get a package today.

SOME DON'TS

Never allow coffee to stand on the grounds. This is what makes it bitter. Pour it off into another pot as soon as made.

Never put the cream into the cup first. The hot coffee cooks it.

Never buy coffee from an exposed bin and always keep it covered in your own kitchen, as coffee absorbs odors and flavors as quickly as does butter.

RENEWED STRENGTH IN COTTON

Market Closed Firm at Net Gain of Four to Eleven Points—Bad Crop Accounts From Texas.

New York, Sept. 25.—A renewal of scattering liquidation attributed to continued nervousness over fears of adverse legislation cost today's cotton market an opening advance, reactions were followed by renewed strength with prices reaching the highest level of the day in the late trading and closing firm, at a net gain of from 4 to 11 points.

Private cables attributed a sharp advance in Liverpool to covering by some of yesterday's sellers and bad crop accounts from Texas. The local market opened steady, at an advance of 3 to 10 points on the English showing, but immediately weakened under favorable crop reports from South Georgia, realizing, or liquidation of scattering long accounts by local traders and houses with Southern connections. Liverpool was also a considerable seller here, supposed to be undering of straddles, and notwithstanding the Western belt forecast for continued unsettled weather with still lower temperatures, prices eased off to a net loss of from 7 to 10 points before the end of the morning. After the close of Liverpool, offerings became less active, and the market steadied on the detailed weather reports showing general rains in Texas and Oklahoma, which were heavy at many points, and which were accompanied by unseasonable, low temperatures.

As prices rallied, the buying became a little more general, owing to increasing crop complaints from the Southwest, and reports of higher Southern spot markets. Trade houses were moderate buyers on the early decline, and gave the market continued support on the late rally, but business on the whole was less active than earlier in the week. Rather more optimistic reports as to the legislative outlook were circulating in the afternoon, and probably helped the late advance.

Spot cotton, steady. Middling uplands, 13.75; do. gulf, 14.00; sales, none.

Futures closed steady.

B. B. PLAYERS FRAT.

Draft Series of Demands for Presentation to Club Owners.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 25.—Members of the Detroit American League Baseball Club here today confirmed a report that the baseball players' fraternity has drafted a series of demands for presentation to the owners of major baseball clubs. They also will be submitted to the National Commission with the request that they be made part of the laws governing organized baseball.

Four important demands are under consideration, it is understood. They are:

No player who has been a member of a major league club for ten years shall be given other than his unconditional release.

No player who has been a member of a major and minor league club, inclusive for 12 years, shall be given other than his unconditional release.

No player who has been carried on a major league club's pay roll until July shall be released to the minors unless waivers are obtained from the 16 clubs of the American and National Leagues.

A major league club owner shall be prohibited from carrying a player who has an opportunity to play on another major league club under the late months of the season, thus taking advantage of the time when the teams are carrying many recruits to send the player in question to the minors.

Many major league ball players are reported to be willing to agree to refuse to sign future contracts unless the demands of the fraternity are accepted.

STOCKS MOVED UP BRISKLY

Gains, However, Later Cancelled—Uncertainties of Political Situation Here and Abroad. Bonds Irregular.

New York, Sept. 25.—Stocks moved upward briskly in the first hour of trading today. The course of the market subsequently illustrated the difficulties which stand in the way of successful operations on the long side. Before the morning session was half over the early gains had been cancelled. The market thereafter was heavy.

There was no evidence of aggressive operations for the long account, which apparently were held in check by the uncertainties of the political situation, here and abroad. The effect of tariff and currency legislation, damage to crops and the Fall demands on the money market are to be reckoned with at home. The financial situation in the great European centers still arouses uneasiness abroad. The Bank of England's report today was not a strong one, showing a reduction of more than 2 per cent. in the proportion of reserve to liability. A further reduction is not improbable next week. Selling of stocks for foreign account was a considerable factor yesterday, but today as many shares were purchased by London as were unloaded yesterday.

Texas Company and United States Realty sustained severe losses.

Bonds were irregular, with signs of waning interest in the prominent issues. Total sales, par value, $1,525,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales were 354,000 shares, including American Tobacco, 100; C. and O., 1,200; Lehigh, 2,100; N. and W., 100; Reading, 66,800; S. A. "ONE-HOSS" SHAYS.

Secretary Daniels Takes a Shot at Democratic Economy.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Secretary Daniels probably did not know there were so many second-hand vehicles in the world when he decided recently to advertise for a brougham which had seen its best days, his idea being to help in a small way the theory of government economy.

F. S. Curtis, chief clerk of the Navy Department, is busy trying to figure out which of the 33 "broughams" would best suit the secretary's needs. Both in design and price they cover a range as wide as the sea. One of them was offered for the modest sum of $85, while another was said to be worth $800.

What seemed to some of the officials of the department the most appropriate conveyance was described as a "fine sea-going hack". What could be better, they asked, for the head of the United States navy.

NEGRO COLLEGE UNWELCOME.

Residents of Baltimore Suburbs Do Not Want Morgan School.

Baltimore, Sept. 25.—Bitter racial feeling has been aroused in several of the fashionable northern suburbs of this city over the reported intention of trustees of Morgan College, a negro school in Northwest Baltimore, to move the school to some one of these communities, where property has been offered to them. Meetings of suburban residents have been held at which strongly worded resolutions of protest have been adopted.

Almost every community along the entire northern border of the city is being enlisted in the movement to keep out the negro college and a call was sent out today for a mass meeting at Mount Washington Monday night "to formulate and register a determined protest against the location of Morgan College at Mount Washington."

The agitation is deprecated by members of the executive committee of Morgan College. Chairman Charles H. Evans declared the trustees are "fully alive to the fact that negro colleges and schools are undesirable in certain localities," and knowing this he said they were not going to force themselves on people who feel that their property will be damaged.

Morgan College was founded in 1867 and is supported by contributions from the Methodist Episcopal church. It has a branch at Lynchburg, Va.

A race segregation ordinance was presented by the city council late today.

The measure has the following title: "An ordinance to prevent conflict and ill feeling between the white and colored races in Baltimore city, and to preserve the public peace and promote the general welfare by making reasonable provisions requiring the use of separate blocks for residences by white and colored people respectively."

A house on Mosher street, occupied by negroes, who moved in yesterday, was bombarded with stones and bricks for three hours tonight by white men and boys from roofs, windows and steps of houses occupied by whites. Then a crowd of negroes assembled and began a similar bombardment against houses of the white people. Several persons were injured by flying missiles.

vantage of the State. As it now stands, I believe that it makes a reduction reasonable under the present rate system. I know that it makes a substantial reduction. In my opinion it is a fair compliance in good faith with the understanding between the representatives of the State, and the representatives of the carriers in conference at Raleigh on February 25th, 1913.

Would Save Vast Sum.

"The acceptance of these proposals would save our people a vast amount of money and enable the towns and cities of North Carolina to compete on equal terms with the cities of other States.

"The savings in freight rates would be a substantial gain, but the greater consideration is the opportunity for business that the lower rates would offer. Our prosperity would increase and our industries would be encouraged to the extent of the reduction on the cost of transportation.

"The proposed reductions are, in my opinion, as much or more than we could secure under the present system and construction of the law through the Inter-State Commerce Commission even by long and expensive litigation. Under this proposition, we would secure the benefit of the reduction with but little expense, and as soon as the rates could be put into effect. Shall we accept these proposals and save to the State a vast sum of money, vouchsafe to her industries increasing prosperity without compromising the dignity of the State, and without yielding our right to proceed for any further reductions in rates not provided for in the adjustment; or shall we reject them and make war upon the carriers to compel greater reduction? By the acceptance, there are no limitations expressed or implied upon the State. Within her jurisdiction the State will exercise her sovereign power according to the dictates of her own conscience in the making and administration of the law. No one can barter away this right if he would.

Wants Honorable Peace.

"I want peace but I prefer war to an ignominious peace. I really want peace, and peace on the term proposed is an honorable peace.

"I fully realize that we are not getting all to which we are entitled but it is much. It is a move in the direction of complete justice.

"If the issue with the railroads were within the jurisdiction of the State, justice would be decreed by statute, and enforced, but the power of the State cannot directly control this matter. We consent under disadvantages against a long established system recognized by Federal statutes and authority.

"The existing rate structure has been developed by the arbitrary will of the carriers; it has resulted in all manner of extortion and injustice; it must be revised. There is no competition between railroads; the people can expect no protection from competition; the law must fix and regulate rates. The rate for any point should be determined by the relative cost of the haul. This axiomatic principle can be established only in the Federal jurisdiction; and not until it be established can we hope complete relief from the injustice under which we have long suffered.

Rate Methods Antiquated.

"The present method of fixing rates by the arbitrary power of the railroads has existed from the beginning of railroad transportation. The people have submitted because they did not know. Like the protective tariff, it has grown insidiously until oppressed by accumulating injustice, and the people have awakened for action. We cannot hope to uproot and destroy the whole evil at one stroke. We must persevere on the line laid down by President Wilson in his discussion of the tariff. We have begun and will not stop. We have put our hands to the plow and will not look back.

"Respectfully,
"LOCKE CRAIG,
"Governor."

The Senate—Second Day.

The Senate convened at 10 o'clock, prayer by Rev. W. McWhite, of the Presbyterian church.

Senator Pharr introduced the resolution from the committee on rules providing that the business of this session shall be confined to matters pertaining to the rate and the constitutional amendment proposals, except that local bills that cover emergencies and contingencies arising from bills passed at the regular session may be introduced but must all be introduced by October 1st A discussion by Senators Daniel, Jones, Pharr and others developed the fact that this rule will be subject to suspension as are all other rules of the House.

Bills were introduced as follows:

Bryan: Authorize Durham to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage.

Daniel: Amend laws of 1913 as to holding courts in Halifax.

Bills Sent to House.

The following bills passed readings and were sent to the House:

Provide court stenographer for Halifax.

Amend the law as to bonds by Roseboro school district, Sampson county, so bonds may be issued.

Allow commissioners of Roseboro to sell guardhouse.

Repeal Chapter 786 ,Public Laws of 1913, relative to improvement of public roads in Sampson.

Establish office of highway commissioner for Sampson.

Amend the road law of Cotton Grove township, Davidson county.

Authorize the commissioners of Forsyth county to apply funds to premiums for the county fair.

Provide for annual instead of biennial elections of officers for the town of Murphy, Cherokee county.

Amend law as to courts in Halifax so that all kinds of causes may be tried at any court.

Mode of Procedure.

There was a general discussion of the mode of procedure in considering the constitutional amendments. Senator Bryant thought these proposals should be gotten before the Senate as quickly as possible for consideration before the rush came.

Senator Pharr suggested that he understood there were many people out in the State who wished to be heard on various proposals, more particularly that designed to change the homestead law. Just how to accomplish this was the problem. He thought it might be possible to hear citizens not members in committee of the whole. Senator Hobgood thought it would be entirely irregular to hear discussions by other than members in committee of the whole and that the proper thing would be to let the proposal go to committee and then the Senators could sit with the committee to hear whatever arguments were offered.

The president of the Senate stated that this would be procedure unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

The message from Governor Craig was presented by special messenger at 11 o'clock and was read immediately. The message was referred and the usual number of copies ordered printed.

Senator Bryant was recognized and introduced the bill carrying proposed amendments to the Constitution as prepared by the legislative Commission on Constitutional Amendments, together with the machinery prepared by the commission for submitting the proposals to the people for ratification after they shall have been passed upon by the Legislature.

The Senate adjourned at noon to 10 o'clock Friday morning.

House—Second Day.

The House met at 10:30 and prayer was offered by the Rev. J. H. McCracken, pastor of Central Methodist church. For the committee on rules, Mr. Allred, of Johnston, submitted a resolution to prohibit the introduction of local and private bills after October 1st when the Assembly will be wrestling with the bigger matters, and the resolution was adopted unanimously.

Among the new bills introduced were:

To enable the town of Dunn to construct a sewerage system; to incorporate Angier high school district in Harnett and to issue bonds; to permit the city of Washington to issue bonds; to validate bonds issued by the commissioners or Beaufort and to levy a tax for a sinking fund; to amend police court act of Morganton so as to give jurisdiction in civil cases, this bill being passed on its final reading; to amend charter of Pilot Mountain; to amend Public Laws of 1907 with reference to High Point township, Guilford county; to amend the Constitution so as to make uniform the jurisdiction of justices of the peace; by Stewart, of Mecklenburg, to amend Constitution so as to prevent introduction of bills ten days prior to time for adjournment, such bills to be void; to authorize the appointment of a prosecutor in Spencer Recorder's court; to amend road bond act of Lincoln; to create a new school district in Johnston; to authorize increase in special taxes in Duplin county school district; to submit proposition for bonds for roads in Edgecombe; to extend road law of Macon, this being passed on its final reading; to prevent shipping and selling of calves for veal in Caldwell; to amend lien laws of North Carolina; to authorize Selma to issue bonds for completing lighting system; to amend charter of Clayton, Johnston county; to authorize the town of Wilson to issue bonds for street improvement, etc.; to amend act relative to construction of bridge across Yadkin river between Yadkin and Forsyth counties, at Glenn's Ferry.

Clark Resolution Passes.

Explaining, after he introduced a resolution calling on the Corporation Commission to furnish certain information to the House, that he wanted to let the people of the State know the men in the employ of the State riding on railroad passes, Representative Clark, of Pitt, said he wanted to find out who were getting pay on both sides. The resolution asked for the information within three days. Mr. Howie, of Ashe, who declared that he was not riding on a pass, said it seemed to him that the intent of the resolution was to discredit members of the Assembly and he was against it as a demagogical display, and moved that the resolution whereby it had been adopted be reconsidered. The roll call for consideration showed 20 for and 81 against. There being some question as to the machinery necessary, Greer, of Iredell, moved that the Speaker instruct the clerk to transmit a copy of the resolution to the commission. The adoption was unanimous.

Governor's Message Received.

The Governor's message was received and read and on motion of Mr. Williams, of Buncombe, 800 copies were ordered printed for the information of the House. Mr. Bowie suggested that printed copies of the Corporation Commission report should be had, and was informed that they are to be had, and Mr. Kellum, of New Hanover moved that 800 copies of the report of the special legislative commission to the Governor be printed and distributed. It was so ordered after considerable sparring.

Representative Justice said he had withheld his position in the freight rate matter pending the Governor's deliverance, and he suggested that the report might be of information to the House.

Mr. Cromartie was permitted to introduce out of order a bill to establish a stock law in Bladen county.

At 11:35 the House adjourned until 10 o'clock Friday.

The Daily News reposes great confidence in both the judgment and the patriotism of the Governor. We believe that he has been fully sensible of the great responsibilities resting upon him in this matter. We feel, and we believe that the great mass of the people feel, that he has moved constantly forward in the desire that the greatest advantage to the greatest number of his fellow citizens might be achieved. The Governor has sought the best counsel obtainable. He has painstakingly investigated every phase of the subject. The Governor's counsel to the General Assembly that the latest proposals of the carriers be accepted, therefore, is the safe counsel. The people of the State as a whole, we think, will consider a prompt acceptance of this counsel as wise.—Greensboro News.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS FROM ALL SOURCES

pending," said Mr. Stadler, "and Mr. Sulzer asked me to intercede wherever I could among my friends and to help him all I could."

Mr. Stadler told of having collected various sums from the liquor interests. His personal contribution of $500 was added to the total and turned over to the Governor.

"I think the total amounted to about $1,400," he declared.

"Was there any occasion," asked Judge Cullen, "on which William Sulzer spoke to you about the subject of cash instead of checks?"

"Not to me, as I remember," was the reply. "But I heard him say to one of my employes when I turned over the money I had collected, that he preferred cash to checks."

Charles Dersch, who followed Stadler on the stand, testified that he had delivered some of Stadler's collections at Sulzer's new home.

Lengthy questioning was necessary before the witness could be persuaded to make a definite statement concerning what he told "either Mr. or Mrs. Sulzer the money was for."

"I said for campaign purposes, it was for campaign purposes," he finally said.

Always Wanted Cash.

Dersch said Sulzer requested that if he got any more checks "to be kind enough to have them cashed."

Simon Uhlman, head of the Henckel Brewing Company, of Albany, testified he had made out a check for $300 to the order of Louis A. Sarecky.

Morris Tekulsky, president of the New York Liquor Dealers' Association, and a member of a general committee of Tammany Hall, testified to having contributed $50.

The question as to the admissibility of the evidence on campaign contributions not cited in the articles of impeachment precipitated a heated wrangle among the opposing attorneys.

"These transactions—a hundred or more in number," asserted John B. Stanchfield, counsel for the prosecution, "constituted a common scheme a design on the part of the respondent to display certain contributions and conceal others. I can see that the failure to report one might have been an accident; two a coincidence, but to fail to account for a hundred is a crime."

Attorneys for the Governor protested that the articles should be treated as an indictment and that the Governor could not be tried for offenses not alleged in such indictment. Presiding Judge Cullen overruled the objections. The court voted unanimously in favor of letting all the evidence in.

Jacob Schiff Recalled.

Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, was recalled to the stand after counsel for the prosecution had made a desperate fight to have the marrow of his yesterday's testimony stricken from the record. That was—and he repeated it today—that he had not intended his $2,500 gift for any particular purpose. This was an admitted blow to the prosecution.

Edgar T. Brackett, counsel for the impeachment managers, went at length into the notation on the back of Schiff's check, "Jacob H. Schiff's contribution to Governor William Sulzer's campaign expenses."

Mr. Schiff reiterated that his sole purpose in making the notation was to identify the check for purposes of record.

Mrs. Sulzer to Testify.

The name of Mrs. Sulzer, who, it is reported, will be one of the star witnesses for the defense, frequently was brought into the testimony today. Ralph Trier, vice president of the Frank V. Strauss Company, testified that Mrs. Sulzer told him over the telephone that a check he had sent was not in the envelope. He said he stopped payment on this check and sent a duplicate which Mrs. Sulzer told him had been received.

Judge Lewis J. Conlan, a friend of the Governor for more than 30 years, told of three checks given to the Governor by him. Judge Conlan's first gift to the Governor's campaign fund and the way it was passed into the Governor's hands as told by Conlan was thus:

"From seven to ten days after the convention I went down to his house and we talked over things generally, the campaign, the possibilities of success and the line of campaign he intended to undertake.

"Then I told him I had brought him some money to assist him in his work. I gave him a check for $200 signed by Mark Potter, payable to my order and endorsed to me, I think."

Checks for Sampaign Purposes.

Mr. Conlan said he had other checks with him at the time and that he might have given one of them to Mr. Sulzer. It was to help him along in the necessary work of the campaign that he was entering upon. "I did not limit the use of it in any way nor did I attempt to direct what he should do with it," he said. The witness had not finished his testimony when court adjourned.

Two different stories were told today regarding the subpoenaing of Sarecky. He maintained that at no time in the last 21 days had he been in hiding. Sarecky was excused on his promise to be present tomorrow morning to testify.

Frederick L. Colwell, charged by the prosecution with being the Governor's dummy in some of his stock deals, who also has been sought by the board o fmanagers, may be produced tomorrow.

Both the Senate and the House adjourned tonight until tomorrow afternoon, after being in session a few minutes.

The assembly managers then held a meeting after which Majority Leader Levy, chairman, said:

"It was unanimously determined that the proceedings should be left undisturbed at this time. The managers feel that additional charges are wholly unnecessary and they are desirous of facilitating and expediting this grave and important trial rather than to confuse it."
